

KLUCZBORK

Kluczbork lies in a province named Opolskie in southwestern Poland and it has about 25 thousand citizens.

It was set up in 1253 by The Teutonic Order. The name Kluczbork comes from a combination two words klucz (a key) and borek (a small forest).

In the past there wasn't a name Kluczbork. Firstly, we had Crewczburg, later Kluczborek. It was caused by the fact our town belonged to different countries. It used to be a part of Austria, the Prussian Kingdom and of Germany for a longer time.
