

Enigma

The starting point :

Firstly you have to find the starting point of this tour.

I warn you this is the most difficult task that requires various means.

The starting point is within this area.

Here are the coordinates :

598035.443 E

101316.290 N

Lambert

The intermediate point

This point is in a town near Brétigny-sur-Orge, the name of this city is referenced : a pure person who was canonized.

The intermediate point is approximately 2762 m from the starting point.

This is a water basin that is located in a park, north of the starting point.

Help: draw a circle whose center is the starting point and use a map of the area.

The ending point

It is a building that who helped the establishment of the meridian of Paris.

It's found to the west of the intermediate point.

The construction was stated in 991 and was completed in 1254.
