

STOP RACISM!

Skin color should be non-style as the eye or hair color is irrelevant. Just as it would be absurd to deny any rights to a person with green, blue, hazel or black eyes, and to the blackheads, blondes, brunettes - just as denying logic and morality is to deny any rights to people with skin color other than white! Or treating them worse.

Human is a complex creature. This is an obvious cliché from which nothing results. But it can be understood quite sensibly. Each human consists of two completely different ingredients: those that he did not choose and those that result from his decisions.

Each of us is a set of such features that are not affected (race, ethnicity, nationality, place of birth, age, physical characteristics - no one chooses these things), and of such characteristics that it influences and about which can decide (attitudes, values that he accepts, acts he does, how to refer to other people).

Is it fair to settle anyone based on what they do not affect?

Of course not!

Therefore, people can't be judged because of the color of their skin (including origin, nationality, etc.)

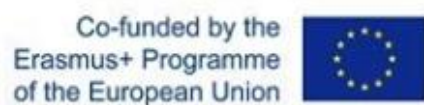

And racism does it constantly. Racism demands different treatment of people because of differences between them that these people can not influence.

Racism is an ideology that proclaims the inherent superiority of a particular race and, therefore, often acknowledging its right to rule over others. Belonging to the race is independent of the will of man. The breed can not be chosen or changed.

The principle of racism is to judge people based on their natural and biological characteristics. It is pure, condensed evil. There is no "good racism". Every racism is evil and injustice.

However, it is completely different to judge people based on what is the result of their choice.

Man has free will. He has reason. That's why it chooses what it chooses - it can (and even must) be judged by other people.
