It has become a tradition during the second week of November to mark Father's day. This year it is from 7 to 13 November. "Being a father" is part of the global campaign for paternal care that takes place in more than 40 countries on 5 continents. The aim is to support women in their role of caring, fair, responsible and non-aggressive parents and guardians to support the successful development of children and family relationships.

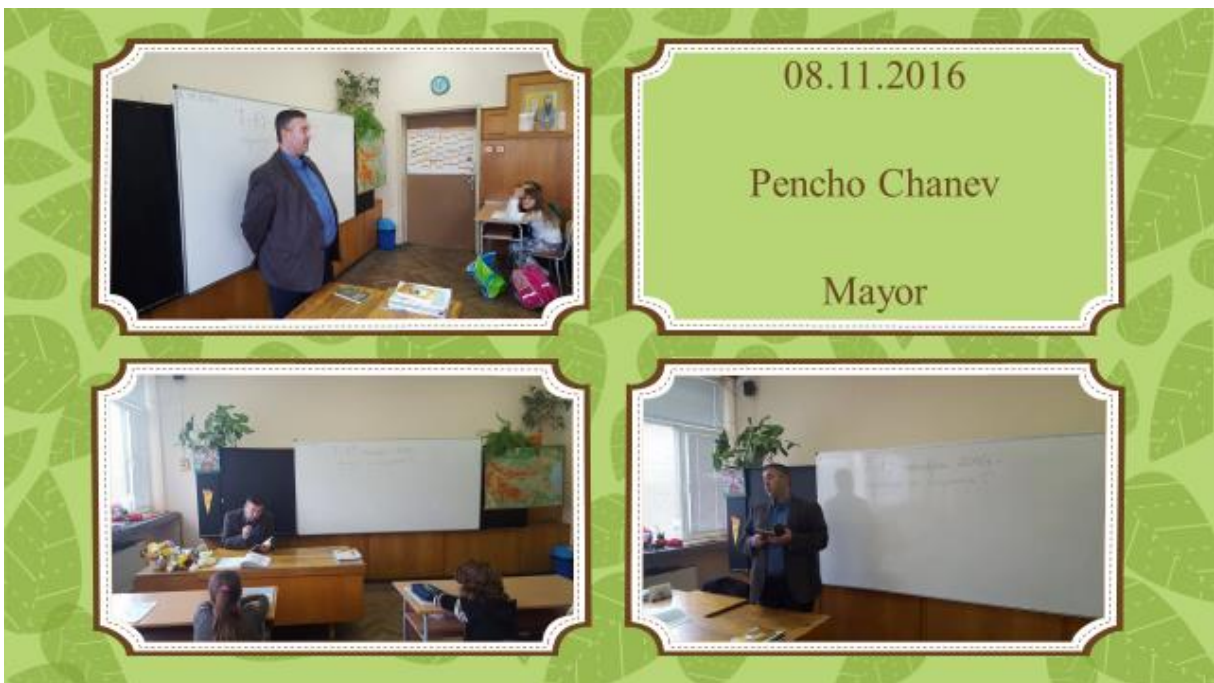

Primary school classes participating in "S/He is Equal in Europe" celebrated the week with various activities.

On November 8 children from II B attended a lesson by historian Tihomir Totev, father of Traiana, entitled "The Thracians and their heritage." The story of the History teacher became a conversation with a lot of questions from young students, as the day before they visited Kazanlak and saw a number of artifacts related to the Thracians.

On 09.11.2016 2 B class met the father Miroslav Minkov - chef. He told the children about the difficult profession "chef." They had a talk about "Healthy and unhealthy foods". He showed how hygiene in the preparation of the food must be respected and demonstrated how food affects us aesthetically. All the girls and boys participated eagerly in the preparation and decoration of sandwiches. The result was delicious and beautiful sandwiches eaten with great appetite.

On 10.11., in II B class, there was another exciting meeting with Major Ivan Ivanov, the father of Vladi. From the presentation of the Major children understood what is the military profession, why it is necessary for each country to maintain a military, even in peacetime, what kinds of troops there are and what are their distinctive signs and colors and that the president of any country is commander of the army and what would happen if he is reckless. The kids learned that even in the considered to be the most "male" profession there are women with the highest ranks. In April our class will visit the Military Academy "Vasil Levski". This is an activity for "S/He is Equal in Europe". The children look forward to seeing real machines, military equipment and the military system.

This ended the Father's week,
grandfathers and male caregivers.
With gratitude to all who took the time, because it was an amazing experience for all the small sons and daughters!
