LOCAL FESTIVALS IN SPAIN

- San Juan is a typical festival in Muskiz, where all the people of the city meet together and they make a parade with torches around the city and to finish with all the torches they make a giant bonfire.
- San Fermin is a traditional festival in Spain exactly in "Pamplona" the most popular event is when the people run with the bulls, most of them they don't agree with killing the bulls in front of people and they are fighting to change it.

LOCAL FESTIVALS IN CZECHIA

- The most known festivals around Zlin are Film festival for children, Masters of rock (about metal and rock music) and Trnkobraní (about alcohol, mostly from plumes)
- We have different traditions like burning the witches (czech tradition, where people burn figurines of witches on wooden tower or bonfire. Some women dress up like witches and wear their hats. People around roast sausages in the fire and some of them also marshmallows.

TRADITIONAL FESTIVALS

- Christmas:
 - In both Spain and Czechia, people decorate christmas trees where they later find presents. But the dates are different. Most czechs open presents in evening of 24th of December, but in Spain people do this in morning of 25th of December. In Spain normally we eat seafood and some families eat mutton or chicken, whereas in czechia we eat carp or different fish (or in some families chicken) with potato salad.
- Easter:
 - Most of people in Spain to celebrate the easter holidays they decide to go away their homes to relax and chill for a time but the christian people celebrates the death of Jesus. In Czechia, we have some traditions, that make our Easter different. Men beat women with whips made from wooden twigs and women give them treat like painted eggs for that.
- New Year's Eve/Day:
 - In Spain there's tradition that for last 12 seconds, people eat a grape for each second. Then, the celebration in Spain and Czechia is similar – we have a party and fire fireworks after midnight. Also in czechia, people make new year's resolutions.
- Halloween:
 - In Spain when you are a child is very usual to dress up and ask in the houses from some candys and when they grow up it is very typical going parties. In czechia we carve scary faces into pumpkins, but it's not common to celebrate halloween more.

DAY PLAN

- Spain:

- In a normal day we usually wake up at 8:00 in the morning
- We start lessons at 9
- We normally eat between 14 and 15
- And we finish the classes at 16:30
- We take a snack before dinner at 18
- And to finish the day we take dinner at 22 and we go to bed
- Most of people fall asleep between 23 and midnight

- Czechia:

- In a normal work day, we usually wake up at 6:00 in the morning
- We begin classes at 8
- We normally have lunch between 12 and 13
- And we finish the classes between 13:30-15:00
- We sometimes take little a snack before dinner at 16
- In the end of the day, we take dinner at 18 and then we just chill watching tv
- Most of people fall asleep just after 22

SPORTS

- Similar in both countries: football is the most popular one, then we have basketball, volleyball, handball, athletics etc.

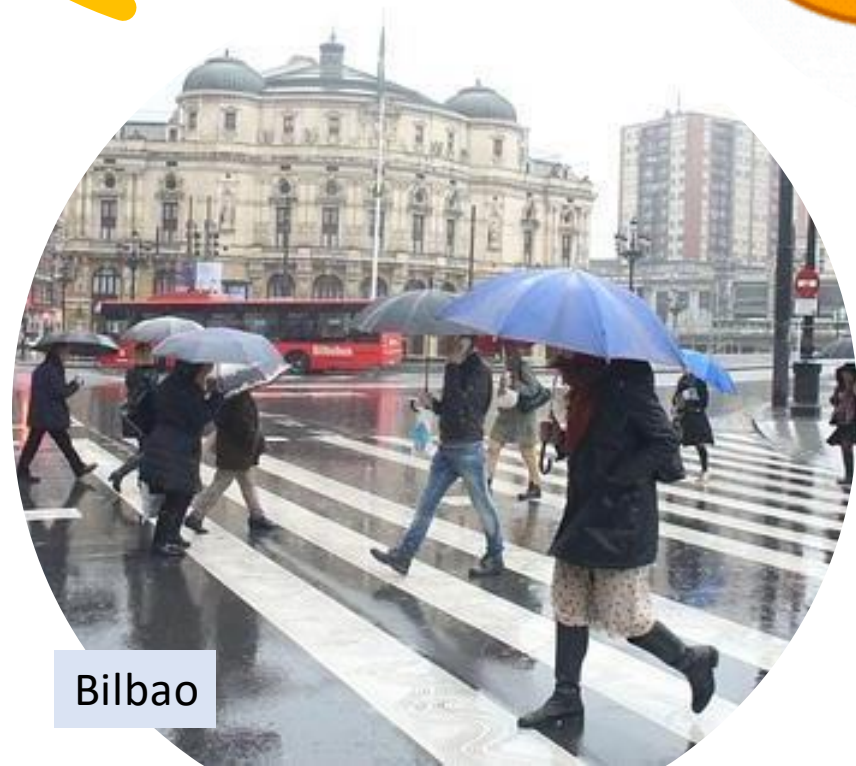

WEATHER

- Weather in Zlin and Bilbao is very similar: the temperatures in summer are nearly same and in winter, weather in Bilbao is a bit warmer (about 10 °C difference). Also, it rains a lot more in Bilbao. In winter, snow is common in Czechia, but in Bilbao it only snows in higher altitudes.
- But if we compare the weather in Bilbao or Czechia to weather in south Spain, due to the fact the south part is near to the north part Africa, the weather is hotter and drier here.
