The third day was one of my favourites. We visited Obidos and Dinoparque. Honestly, I felt better in Obidos beacuse I walked along the wall and saw the whole town.

This has been my most boring day. I just didn't like company and watching birds, but I liked hanging out in the evening because we all got a lot closer.

I think this day was the hardest for everyone. From acquaintances we became best friends. We will stay in our memories forever and I can say in the end that this was the best experience of my life.
