

Game: Math twister

Materials:

1. A mat full of different shapes in various colours
2. 2 spinners

How to play:

1. Spread the mat face up on a flat surface.
2. Players take off their shoes and set them aside.
3. An extra person is the referee. The referee is not considered a player during the game.
4. The referee spins the wheels and calls out hand or foot, shape and the color that the spinners point to.
5. Each player attempts to place that part onto an open space for that color. If there are no open spaces, then the referee must spin again.
6. If the foot or hand is already on the color requested, then the player must move it to a different open spot of that same color.
7. If two or more players go for the same spot, then the referee must declare who had reached that spot first and the other player will have to find an open shape of that same color.
8. Players never remove their hand or foot from a shape unless they are directed to by the referee after a spin. They must temporarily lift a hand or foot to allow another part to pass through, but they must tell the referee before doing so.
9. Any player who falls, or touches the mat with an elbow or knee, is immediately out of the game.

Winning the Game:

The last player left in the game is the winner!
