

STOP DISCRIMINATION

We are all the same!

WHAT IS DISCRIMINATION?

Discrimination means treating a person unfairly because of who they are or because they possess certain characteristics.

WHAT MOTIVATES DISCRIMINATION?

It's very easy to deny human rights to someone when you think that person is inferior.

But how does that happen? In the center of all forms of discrimination is the preconception based on concepts of identity and the need of fitting in a group. Many times if it does not happen ignorance and hate become a reality.

THE PROBLEM IN DETAIL

Sometimes people are criminalized automatically because they are who they are, that is, because they are different from certain social patterns. In some situations, discrimination means that laws do not protect the people against racist violence, domestic violence or attacks motivated by sexual orientation or religion.

TOGETHER WE ARE STRONGER

If we join and accept the differences of each other it's a way of saying no to discrimination. In other words, let us promote society that the differences that each individual possesses are complementary.

DESPITE OF OUR DIFERENCES, WE ARE ALL THE SAME

It's true that each race has a characteristic that is different from other races! It's true that every religion has is own values! It's true that each individual adopts characteristics of his own and that makes him different from another individual either by his sexual orientation or simply by his style.
