

17-18 May 2019

In the morning, when we arrived at school, they handed us a morning game sheet. We divided ourselves by nationality and with the help of some of our hosts we started reading. The game consisted of a treasure hunt, with a final point the supermarket, where to buy the products to cook the cake. When we arrived at the supermarket we bought all the items, eggs, ladyfingers, milk, cocoa and finally the liqueur. As soon as we finished we went back to school where we put the groceries in the kitchen, then we went to a restaurant at the school, it was really very good and moreover it cost very little, a lunch 3.50 euros. Finished lunch we went back to school, it was still too early to cook, so the teacher Pedro organized games for us, like playing the chair and other very fun games to spend a good afternoon. The afternoon passed very quickly between a laugh and the other, so it was time to go and cook our cake.

After cooking we had the barbecue that students, families and teachers had prepared to celebrate the end of this project.

The barbecue ended with a few tears and the desire to relive again that experience that will always remain in our hearts, especially the kindness of the students and the importance they give to the knowledge of English and this great project.

In that week we learned that very often dealing with different cultures and habits is very important to understand how small we are in the world and that when it seems normal for us one thing for other countries is not. I conclude with a sentence that for me and my companions fully represents this project...

“There are journeys that are done with a single baggage: the heart”