Water connection

Since Aveiro is a seaside town and has a branch of sea in the middle of it, it has a strong connection with water.

Activities such as fishing and the production of salt are very important for its economy.

There are also a lot of water sports that can be practised in the salty waters of Aveiro.

Renewable energies

Aveiro is a green town, since it uses a lot of renewable energies. A lot of houses are powered by wind turbines and solar pannels.

Thus, Aveiro has more than half of its population using renewable energies.

Environmentally friendly

Besides using a lot of renewable energies, Aveiro is a very ecological town, since it's a place where a lot of people ride bikes, like the "Bugas", and nowadays people are starting to ride electric cars as well.
