Marilena Kaloidi

We improved our speaking skills in english and learnt about sustainability. I liked this project.

FILIO 12/06/19, 19:22 HS

Adelaida Giolla and Belisa Gjergji, Greece

We loved participating in this project. We learnt about Sustainable Development Goals and how to improve our life. We also learnt new vocabulary.

Diogo and Bernardo, 9E, Sátão, Portugal

We really enjoyed taking part in the project because we contact other people from other countries and we can learn more about sustainability. During the project we learned a lot about the SDG, organizing an event to alert people, to work as a team and to plan, to revise and to manage time to end up our work and set up our action for change

We learned to make decisions during the project and listen to each other's opinions and collaborate so as to succeed because each student in the group gave suggestions and put their idea into practice.

We improved digital skills as we discovered new apps to improve our works and our communication skills in English because we need new vocabulary to develop our campaign and so we improve our English.

Rodrigo, EBIFA, Sátão, Portugal

We liked the project, because we had made decisions and choices in group instead of having to learn what the teacher chooses for us.

We have learned much more during English lessons than the language. We learnt about SDG and the role each one of us can have in helping make this world a better place. We discovered we teenagers were capable of taking measures/ actions to prevent or improve world's problems by acting in our community.

We have taken part in decision making during the project because we decided what problem we wanted to tackle, what actions we could develop and with the help of Mrs Maria Silva, we were able to devise a plan of action and actually put it into practice which was great. t We also got better in English as we learnt new vocabulary to talk about serious stuff.

Rita e Carlina 9thE, Sátão Portugal

We love being part of this project because we have dealt with things that made us grow and learn.

We learned to interact with people and we learned to fight for a cause that made us believe that we would really help.

We had to learn to make several decisions because we had to choose the cause that we would help and what our action would be. And this wasn't always easy.

Of course, we learn to communicate with people we do not know, and we learn a lot more vocabulary about domestic violence and global issues.

St. Mark's Sr. Sec. Public School, India

It was indeed a great learning experience as we got to know about the sustainable development goals and how we can bring about a change. Although it was a challenge for the students to be active on all tools like twinspace, padlet and Facebook but they did learn to use the digital medium. I feel learning through such projects is a better way to instill a sense of responsibility among youth towards their society, surroundings and environment. We look forward to more collaborations of this kind

I think this project was a great opportunity for me and my students. It is amazing how many purposes and opportunities this project includes. The main purpose in my perspective is to make the world a better place. Some other purposes are: to make others' lives better, to help those in need, to give the world more merriness and to get others to help too. This project also serves as a learning opportunity because we are constantly brainstorming ways to help others more and ways we could have done our "deeds" differently. I am proud to have participated in this Project!

David and Vanessa, 9th E,

Yes we enjoyed participating in this project because we interact with people from different places. We learned that we can help people and the planet in various ways. We made some decisions, chose the theme of our cause, decided the plan of our action and also made a video. With this project we learned new vocabulary and improved our writing and oral communication skills. But we had to develop organizational skills we were not used to do and we needed to be very creative and be able to find solutions to problems we encountered along the way. We became more autonomous also and took initiative to invite the students of the Integrated Basic School of Ferreira de Aves to participate in our action which consisted in a walk to the River Torges held on June 5, the "Environment Day", in the framework of the project "ASEF Teen Action For Change.

This walk aimed to find a solution to tackle drought, a problem related to SDG 15 Life on Land. We chose this theme because it is affecting the planet more and more.

We have created an Instagram page called "um.futuro.melhor" where we give tips to reduce the consumption of wasted water.

In addition to the students of the school in Ferreira de Aves we also wanted to join more people for his initiative, for this we made a poster with the information of the walk that we shared in the page for our social network, the school and in village. With this campaign we hope to bring together about 60 people of all ages. We hope that after this action people change the way they use water, and the energies, especially the young ones because they are the future.

This project was a wonderful opportunity given to all of us..It was quite fun meeting new people and interacting with them.. Here in this project we learnt loads about the sustainable development goals..

Also, we worked as team finding solutions to various problems..we took everyone's suggestions and opinions and worked together! If it was not for this project we may not even realise how can we- the teenagers of this generation can help in solving the various problems which people are suffering from..

It was because of this project that I learnt a lot more things and made new friends..

As it is said - "In every job that must be done.. there's an element of fun"...and thats what I found in this one♥

EBIFA, Sátão, Portugal

For me it was worthwhile to participate in this project because I learned different things in English lessons. Learning wasn't confined to the classroom. Our teacher invited us to travel the world (Europe and Asia and even Africa) by meeting our project partners. It was not about doing exercises from the book and repetitive drills to learn vocabulary or grammar. It was more about searching for the words we need to communicate what we learned and to get in touch with other students from far far away like India. I really liked the idea to be in the lead of an action about a problem that matters to me and my mates. I felt I have grown a lot as a person and did things I would never thought I would be able to do. I want more next year teacher!

Greetings to all!

I loved the project as I could interact with students all around the world.Also I got aware about the problems faced by my country and how other countries are tackling with the same issue.It was made even more better as it wasn't concentrated to a single topic, that gave me a chance to explore and learn more. It expanded my knowledgeand I really enjoyed the learning process.It made me realize the importance of the teens to change the world. We are the future, we can change the future & even make the future.👍

Pratishtha Attri, St. Mark's Girls Sr. Sec. School, India

I enjoyed being a part of this project because I met new people and made new friends. I became aware of the issues our world is facing. I learned more about sustainable development and what it means.

We need to preserve our resources for the future generations.

It is rightly said, "We're not inheriting the world from our ancestors but borrowing it from our children."

138Secondary School for Western and Eastern Languages"Prof. Vassil Zlatarski", Sofia Bulgaria

The project was very useful in relations to all activities that participants - students and teachers have been involved. First of all we have developed our IT skills, second - we have learned more about Sustainable Development Goals and share local problems in relation to them, third - we have developed student's team work, fourth - we have learned about interesting facts for participating countries, about how young people act in order to cope with problems, etc

Rafael Ferreira, 9thE, Sátão, Portugal

We liked taking part of the project because we had many interactions with students from other countries and from far away. During this project we learned several things about Sustainable Development Goals, Global Issues namely domestic violence and robberies topics our class has been studying. We also learned what we should do in cases of for example knowing of some case of domestic violence we should report, or robberies. What I personally enjoyed was to have the chance to take part in the process of taking decisions. Together with my classmates we chose the issues of our interest and we decided what we would like to do to solve the problem. I have improved my communication skills in English because I had to speak to other teenagers who don't speak my language about a certain problem which helped us to put into practice the knowledge in English.
