

ME AND MY SMARTPHONE

a photostory by Hannah Nesensohn

Tonight, the jubilee concert of the music school takes place and the rehearsals of the youth orchestra are already done. So I warm-up my fingers and equipoise me before I have to leave in order to get to the place, where all students should unpack their instruments.

But what's that?

Why's this string so loose?

Well... I've got to untwist it and pitch my cello again...

Where's my tuner,
or my tuning fork?
Where did I lose sight of them?

Where could it be? Maybe I lost
it at the rehearsal room...

What shall I do now? I've got to leave in some minutes but I can't go without my cello in tune...

If I only find my tuner!

Ohhhh! I know!
I could use my...

... smartphone, because I just downloaded a new tuner app for all instruments!

How useful that could be...

So let's solve this problem!

It's high time!

Yes, it works!
Fortunately!

Wish me the the best of luck!
