Wednesday 7 November

The partners met each other at a welcome dinner at a restaurant in Thessaloniki.

The partners did not stay all in the same hotel. All had booked rooms in Thessaloniki. It was easy to go by bus to the school in Kalamaria. It took  $\frac{1}{2}$  -  $\frac{3}{4}$ h

Thursday 8 November: Thursday morning

The partners were welcomed by the principal and were offered coffee and cake. After the guided tour of the school by students of the school gave a performance about the Greek history.

Dances lead us from ancient history to the present.

Thursday afternoon.

A guide gave us a tour from the old upper city of Thessaloniki to the lower centre. She led us from the castle at the top along and in monasteries, old Turkish bath and churches and through the fresh market into the reality of this time.

Friday morning 9 November

From 8.15 -09.00 and from 09.00-09.45. All partners taught lessons in the classrooms. After the coffee break, we had workshop boomwhackers and its contributing to learn English. . The lunch was a cultural lunch offered by the parents of the school

Friday afternoon.

By foot we went to the city hall and met the mayor. She told us that she was very happy to meet us and give us a present.

After the visit we had our Evaluation and agreements for the last part of the project. See the attachment.

Later on we had the goodbye dinner and dancing at a restaurant in Kalamaria.

Saturday morning 10 November

In the morning, we had an informal meeting about good practises in the school. The Italian, Bulgarian and polish partners went home this day. The Dutch and Scottish partner together with the Greek coordinator spent a day on the mount Olympus.

Attachment 1: Evaluation and planning

In general:

A1. Blabla. Still going on and better than in the first year. Please send a word version of the blabla to Kasia for the website. Put the Blabla's also on the twinspace.

A1 Question and answer

As agreed in Holland Hans made a list who does ask a question in which month. The Dutch started. It does not run well. Hans will make a list who does the question in which month. The other partners will answer with a photo, and some comment. Please put it on twinspace. Greece and Scotland did answer the Dutch question. The next question comes from Bulgaria. It is about the emotional thermometer. The children want to know if we also use some thermometer.

Fulfilled

C6. Joy in music and English. We were introduced and tried the boomwhackers method.

In progress and to work out:

A11. Scientific joy. The deadline is running till 1 December this year, but partners have difficulties by fulfilling this part of the project. Only the Italians have succeeded.

A13 Joy in history. It takes a lot of time to make a comic about our history heroes. Although agreed and put in the report there was some really communication trouble about the Italian hero: It is Gaius Julius Caesar.

Although it runs until November, nobody have finished these parts.

All are still working on it.

Holland: the children are ready. Hans will make a nice booklet of it.

Greek is ready.

Poland and Bulgaria are busy with it. Scotland and Italy are not started yet.
