

Friday

The day started with an interesting presentation about biomimesis and various new nanotechnology techniques that are used in real-life situations. The presentation was held online by Mr. Polatoglou (Professor from the Aristoteleio University in Thessaloniki). The idea was to give us better insight and understanding regarding those aspects. After the presentation we could enjoy the Greek folklore presented by the students. The day's activities ended with a Kahoot created by the students from every country with questions about the host countries.

We would like to add that the school part was interesting and it was great to go on excursions with a private bus. The most memorable part was, however our spare time together with the Greek hosts. It was a most fantastic week that gave us new friends for life. We will definitely come again. The Greek culture, open and friendly people, the hospitality from our hosts and their friends was amazing. It was one of the best weeks in our lives.
