

Overcoming & Breaking StereoTypes

Trip to Croatia April 10th – 16th 2016

- First day – Monday

We went to an auditorium to present our schools to the other countries and it was the first opportunity to get to know each other. We felt different because we hadn't a digital presentation and we improvised our speech. After that we went to the Croatian school and the students showed us their classrooms, labs and the gym. During a tour of the school, we noticed that our school is different than their school. We were divided into groups to spend some time with other students. We analyzed the survey and in our opinion this project was the most difficult because we didn't know well the other students and we were afraid to not speak english good enough. After that we went all together in a class and each group presented their results about the survey. At 6:00 PM we finished school and we went together to the restaurant to eat pizza.

- Second day – Tuesday

We went to school and we were divided into groups to analyze our comics. Each comics was exposed on a grid and the students saw the different story and they chose to which comics work for. After that we made some videos about our comics ideas. This project was very funny because we interacted with other students and "we broke the ice" . In the afternoon we went by boat to Porec to visit this small and famous city. The guide talked about the story of this place and she showed us the most important attraction of the city. After visiting this place we came back to the hotel and we went to the Mexican restaurant in front of the port. In our opinion the excursion was boring because we stayed on the boat for a long time.

- Third day– Wednesday

At 9:00 AM we left the hotel to visit Pola, Fazana and Brijuni isles, where we visited the little towns and we went to shopping. From Fazana we took the boat and we went to Brijuni isles. We took the little train to visit the natural park and we stopped to see the animals. We had dinner in an italian restaurant after we came back to Rovigno. It was a really beautiful day for me. We met nice people, we had fun and we talked all day.

Fourth day- Thursday

We had to do a little trip around Rovigno's coast with a typical Crotian boat, called "Batana".

We talked with the man on the boat about his life, the sea and the great experiences he lived.

He also spent words about Istria, the language, his origin and the Batana.

After a tour around the city we went to eat fish in a typical location a few metres to the coast.

There were great numbers of very good fish, cooked at the moment, so we drunk wine enjoying the evening all together.

After dinner we came back to the hotel very slowly and tired.

Fifth day – Friday

At school we were separated in six groups: three groups worked on the flyer and the other three took part in a little project about communication and interactivity among other students of the erasmus project.

We worked on the flyer and at the end of the school day we decided which flyer was the best one.

In the afternoon we had free time to go shopping and to rest at the hotel.

We had dinner in a restaurant on the other side of Rovigno and it was a really beautiful night where we had so much fun, we danced and we sang and we took a lot of photos with each other.

There was a really beautiful speech where five students made an imitation of each prof of the project, then they talked about the emotions of the week.

After dinner we went back to the hotel and we spent a few moments with the other students, then we said our goodbyes.