

Article:

The youth section of the Lega (Lega nord an Italian political party) from Rho talks about the environment and the ecological transition.

In a video call append Friday 19th of February, the youth section of the Lega Rho proposed a meeting to talk about the environment and the ecological transition.

The League does not understand anything about the environment", said Beppe Grillo, founder of the 5 Star Movement, during one of the consultations with the then Prime Minister in charge Mario Draghi.

“A provocation that has not left us indifferent, in fact, we have been at work to develop concrete proposals to bring an ecological change, not only in words, even in the city of Rho. For this reason, on Friday 19 February the youth section of the Lega from Rho promoted an online meeting, inviting two young people as speakers and industry professionals, Silvio Molgora and Davide Muratore”.

To moderate the debate the Rhodesian Andrea Pellegrini, head of the Rho section of the environment theme. "As Lega Giovani, we have the duty to talk about the environmental issues because we represent the future of the planet - comment Pellegrini - but we must move away from the ideological environmentalism of the left and embrace a more concrete one. It is easy to talk about the circular economy, renewable energy or biodiversity, a subject that is very dear to us young leaguers, but when it comes to transforming slogans into concrete actions, if there is no careful study behind it, we fall into carelessness and 'utopia. We also want to bring this pragmatic approach to environmental issues in Rho”.

“This was just one of the first public meetings that as a youth movement we will organize involving professionals and experts under 35, to give voice and space to the ideas of young people. From these meetings, we will then draw a summary to be presented to all our peers, and not only, who live in the city of Rho. Sport, social, volunteering, digitalisation, universities and schools will be just some of the issues that we will address in the next meeting to which - concludes Christian Colombo, citizens secretary of the Youth League - we invite all girls and boys who want to build something new and different for the city of Rho”.

Original: <https://www.sempionenews.it/istituzioni/lega-giovani-rho-parla-di-ambiente-e-transizione-ecologica/?cn-reloaded=1>

