

Animes

Some people mistake Animes with Mangas. Mangas are Japanese comics and Animes are animated films produced in Japan. There are many kinds of Animes. Animes go with the culture of Japan. Every year there are about 200 new series. Animes usually have 12-13, 24-26 or sometimes even 52 or more episodes. Anime series, which will be made films of, usually have 100 or more episodes. Many Animes are based on successful Mangas. In Japan film producers make a lot of money with the soundtracks. Anime series also have a title song as an introduction. One of the most famous Anime studios is the “Studio Ghibli”. This studio is in Kichijoto and is more than 30 years old. Many fans from all over the world go there.
