

LTT in Delft 6-11 October 2019

Here's our summary of the Erasmus+ week in Delft

Sunday 6 October

All guests arrived that day at Delft Central Station and went with their host-families.

Monday was our first day working on the project.

As an icebreaking event we had a morning sport.

The second subject was presentations of the country. City and school from each country.

In the afternoon we visited the International court in Den Haag, where we learned how and why it was founded in den Haag. And what their tasks is in the human rights. We booked a guided tour which included an explanation on the origins and history of the Peace Palace and the International Court how it currently operates.

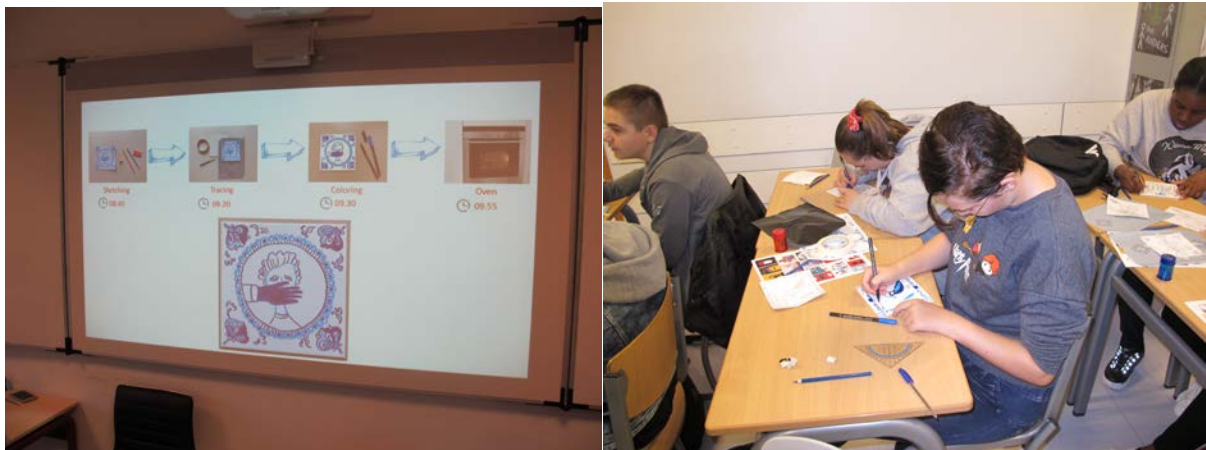

Tuesday we started with presentation about how each country has worked with the Human rights 6-15.

After that we visited the Gevangenpoort in den Haag where we got a tour and explanation how it was with the human rights in the earlier days. And the difference between rich and poor prisoners.

Wednesday we started with Creative writing. Students had to make a saying or a poem with words that were cut out from English newspapers.

In the afternoon we had Stedenband Estelli that let the students play a game about an island where they had to discuss about all what is needed to have a society. So where do we live, who is the boss, must that be a man or woman and all other issues.

Thursday we had a workshop with painting tiles where the students have to make a tile with delfts blue paint . And it must be a painting about how they think of human rights.

After all activities students filled in a digital evaluationform.
