

PROJECT DELFLAND DOET

Our school had different activities to do for a good cause.
It took 5 days in which our students had to work at several different issues.

1. Students does something for a good cause.
2. Students does things for another person.
3. Students do something for elderly people.

All 3 assignments must be done in the week for our goals.

We work in groups of 4-5 students.
Together they have to do activities that includes the goals we are working for.

Inside our school we work we have one project where we let older people come to our school and students has to entertain them with games and offer them a nice lunch or meal.

There were about 15 older people that came to visit our school and had some nice lunch and were some entertained by students.
Also, students worked with the older people with doing their nails and give them a beauty arrangement. With doing their face and hair.

There were also students that visited an elderly home where they helped the nurses with taking care of the people there.
Also, a lot of students made a nice walk inside the inner city of Delft with wheelchairs pushing the elderly people.

Students had to make a storyboard in which they all explained what they wanted to do with their group.

Another day all students have to work at different places to earn money.
That can be doing groceries for their parents, neighbors or grandparents.
Washing cars in their street or cleaning windows of cars, collecting empty bottles and bring that to shops where they got the money for it and whatever they can do to earn some money.
They even baked cakes at school to sell at parent's, neighbors and grandparents
Doing tasks in elderly houses, sports clubs, daycare centers. The last items were more to do was more to do good things then to earn money.

Students did also good work in the neighborhood of our school.
They cleaned the surroundings by picking up all trash and plastic things and cans.
So, it became a clean area.

The lower classes were also working to collect money for the Teachers Go Abroad.
Where the leader of that foundation will donate the money to help kids in Indonesia with their education and see that they get some chairs and tables to have that in their classroom.

So, we had that whole week where all students worked for different causes and collected money and did a lot for other people.

With all their work they did they earned about 2176,45 euro

And we donated 1000 euro to Teachers go Abroad.
And 1176,45 euro we donated to WNF.

It was a nice and good organized week.
