

IMMIGRANTS' RIGHT TO LIVE IN A PEACEFUL WORLD

What Jobs Are Lacking Workers In My Country?

Physical jobs like construction because they're very risky and life threatening. Apart from that, professions related to technology that will be very popular in the future are currently lacking workers.

What Skills Are Needed?

Most of the jobs needed are physical labour so you have to be physically strong. For technology-related professions, you'll need to study majors such as computer engineering.

What Labour Opportunities Do Migrants Have?

Farming, construction work, textile and service are the most popular options in Turkey. But if a migrant can speak their language and Turkish well, they can also teach language as a job.

Are There Chances For Education And Training To Improve Their Job Status?

In Turkey everyone gets to have an education no matter what their race is or what their beliefs are. Immigrants who apply to the operative training courses provided by the institution called İŞKUR can specialize in the field they want and acquire a profession.

How Are Immigrants As Workers Treated In My Country?

Because of their situation they take the jobs most people wouldn't take and they get paid less for it. But if they take advantage of the government's facilities and get an education, they can get respectable professions and get paid equally.

Is There A Law To Protect Them?

Yes There is. There's a law called "Foreigners and International Protection Law" and it was enacted in 2013. It made it easier for foreigners to come in our country and have a life here.

This law is the most comprehensive law protecting the rights of immigrants to live, work and education.