

I saw a star

emotional, electrical

To see the magic of the Universe that lies above all of us.

Watching the stars is magical,

Incredible sensations, enigmatic breath of inspiration when contemplating stars.

Night is a stage of dancing stars and shining

Keeping us admiring about our mysterious past

Light flashes through our inner sky

It's a wandering shooting little star.

Now, we're shining stars,

Glowing, no matter who we are,

Shining bright to see

The thing we can truly be.

And like the Universe, we will go far

Running for our dreams

Step by step, this travel will be spectacular.