Aims and Learning Outcomes:

- Children will develop attention skills.
- Children will develop general body skills (balance, speed)
- Children will learn to be observant and notice the details.

Time: 15-20 minutes

TEACHING-LEARNING PROCESS:

PREPERATION:

To play the game you have to find a wall, a tree or a fence – a place where the game leader can stand. That place marks the games finish line. Game leader is facing the wall. Other players stand behind a starting line.

TEACHING-LEARNING PROCESS:

The game leader is saying "Herring-herring, one, two, three!", in that time the others are sneaking closer. When the game leader turns around, then they all have to freeze. The one, who moves, has to go back to startline. When nobody moves the game leader turns around again and says "Herring-herring, one, two, three!".

The first child, who arrives to the wall, is the new leader.

Concept Learning: Attention, balance, speed, observation
