

The Circus

The Circus is a popular classic board game for the family and friends, also known as Snakes and Ladders. The principle is simple - roll the dice and move forward as many squares as shown on the dice. The further you go, the better, but everyone knows that the person will not always cope with the fastest steps the fastest.

The playing field is divided into squares marked with numbers from 1 to 120. The object of the game is to be the first to enter the court with the number 120 on which the winner's cup is drawn. The player who reaches the court first wins. Of course, the path is not always easy, because sometimes you have to climb, sometimes fall.

The dimensions of the playing field are 350 x 350 mm. The base of the game is made of thick cardboard. The set includes four figurines and one dice.
