School bullying at the school canteen

Narrator: It all started during lunch, when Innes asked Leonice to take her lunch tray, and since then, in the canteen queue, Leonice has the habit of taking two trays, one for her and one for Innes.

Innes: Oh, don't forget my tray like every day !

Narrator: Leonice pretends not to hear Innes

Celia: Leonice should not forget Innes' tray or she is going to get angry !

Hafifa: Yes, you are right but it had been a while...

Innes stands up, pushes her seat, gets angry and goes to see Leonice.

Innes: Where is my tray !

Leonice: Hum, I, well...

Innes throws Leonice's tray on the ground.

Leonice picks her tray.

A teacher enters in the canteen.

Celia: Teacher, teacher, we have a problem !

Teacher: What is the problem ?

Celia: Innes has been harassing Leonice for several days, but today it wents too far !

The teacher takes Leonice crying aside.

Teacher: Is it true what Celia says ?

Leonice: Yes, it is true.

Teacher: OK, I will take care of it.

Narrator : The teacher wants to talk to Innes but can't find her and leave.

Innes, going back to the canteen, to Leonice : Next time you talk to an adult, I will hit you !

Leonice, later : What I have done to deserve that.

She jumps out of the window.

3/ During the mobility in Marseille, these students performed their sketches in front of the students of the Erasmus group. Then, the Erasmus students worked in international groups to propose another version of the sketches ending positively, with a solution to solve the situation. Finally, they performed their sketch in front of the other students.

Lors de la mobilité à Marseille, ces élèves ont joué leurs scènes devant les élèves du groupe Erasmus. Ces derniers ont ensuite travaillé en groupes internationaux pour proposer une autre version de chaque scène qui s'achève de façon positive, avec une solution pour résoudre la situation. Ils ont présenté alors leur scène au reste du groupe.
