

A hungry tramp

One day a tramp woke up early in morning. He was very hungry. He didn't have any food. He went to an old woman's garden and stole her tomatoes. He made ketchup from these tomatoes. He went to a shop and stole some spaghetti there.

He went under a bridge and after a while he made a fire. He poured some water into a saucepan and put it on the fire. He put the spaghetti and salt into the saucepan. After ten minutes, the spaghetti was ready. He put ketchup on the spaghetti and wanted to eat it but he needed to go to the toilet.

Suddenly a dog appeared and it ate the spaghetti. The tramp was not happy and went to sleep hungry.
