

Hello! My name is Radka. This is our traditional clothes. We call it „kroj“. I have a blue skirt, white shirt, leather shoes and a red ribbon in my hair.

People in the past didn't have only one „kroj“. They had one for every day, one for church, one for wedding, for funeral, for work....

We don't wear it every day (but some very old people in villages wear it). We usually wear it in competitions, concerts and folklore festivals.

You can see a beautiful wedding dress – „svadobný kroj“

There are many types of „kroj“ in Slovakia. Every part has got its own type.

Many people love folklore, traditional music. You can buy many clothes with folklore motives.

Very interesting „kroj“ is from the centre of Slovakia – around Detva region. People say that in the past men wanted to rob their masters, they hid something under the shirt. The masters found it, cut their shirts, so they have them very short (over navel 😊)
