GIARDINI, IMPIEGATI NELL'INIZIATIVA INSERITA NEL FESTIVAL STREET ART BAMBINI E NON Volontari dipingono il muro del campo sportivo

GIARDINI. Bambini dai 7 ai... 99 anni all'opera per dipingere tutti insieme il muro di cinta del campo sportivo di contrada Calcarone, nella piazzetta Lorino Mangano. L'iniziativa è stata inserita nell'ambito del Festival Street Art in corso di svolgimento nella cittadina naxiota attraverso un laboratorio esperienziale, curato da Roberto Alfano, artista ed educatore, esperto nella conduzione di laboratori artistico esperienziali e delle dinamiche delle espressioni artistiche. «Il progetto per la realizzazione del muro - come ha spiegato Giuseppe Stagnitta, ideatore e organizzatore del

Festival - è rivolto a tutte quelle persone disponibili che vivono il territorio e che vogliono dare un contributo attivo alla riqualificazione del paese». L'azione laboratoriale è stata promossa da Emergence Festival di concerto con l'assessore alla Cultura del Comune di Giardini Naxos, Sandra Sanfilippo, e in collaborazione con il Gruppo promotore Unicef, coordinato dalla responsabile, Pancrazia Marcuccio. Pennelli alla mano e con i colori messi a disposizione dagli organizzatori bambini, ragazzi e persone di tutte le età si sono ritrovate di fronte al muro e hanno iniziato a impri-mere pennellate di vario colore, lasciando la loro "impronta". Ogni pomeriggio, e fino a oggi, ci si ritrova intorno al muro, che ha un'estensione di circa 200 metri, per decorarlo e riqualificarlo. Da domani, invece, sarà l'artista Roberto Alfano a completare l'opera riorganizzando il lavoro che hanno fatto i volontari e che darà un significato "logico" a quanto è stato prodotto, riconducendolo a un contesto artistico ben preciso che resterà a testimonianza dell'esperienza comune che è stata realizzata in questi giorni.

GIARDINI, ORGANIZZATORI E VOLONTARI

This wall has been painted by a famous Spanish artist, called Pablo S. Herrero. The grey lines are stylized trees in which roots and branches are represented in a continuous way and the trunk is only a transient element. Roots symbolized the past, branches the future and trunk the present, that is the shortest part of life.

PABLO HERRERO - EMERGENCE FESTIVAL 2014

This underground has been painted by MP5 that is an international artist since 13 years. They use the style of the punk comic, painting the whole surface with a strong color and figures with black and white only.

MP5 - EMERGENCE FESTIVAL 2013

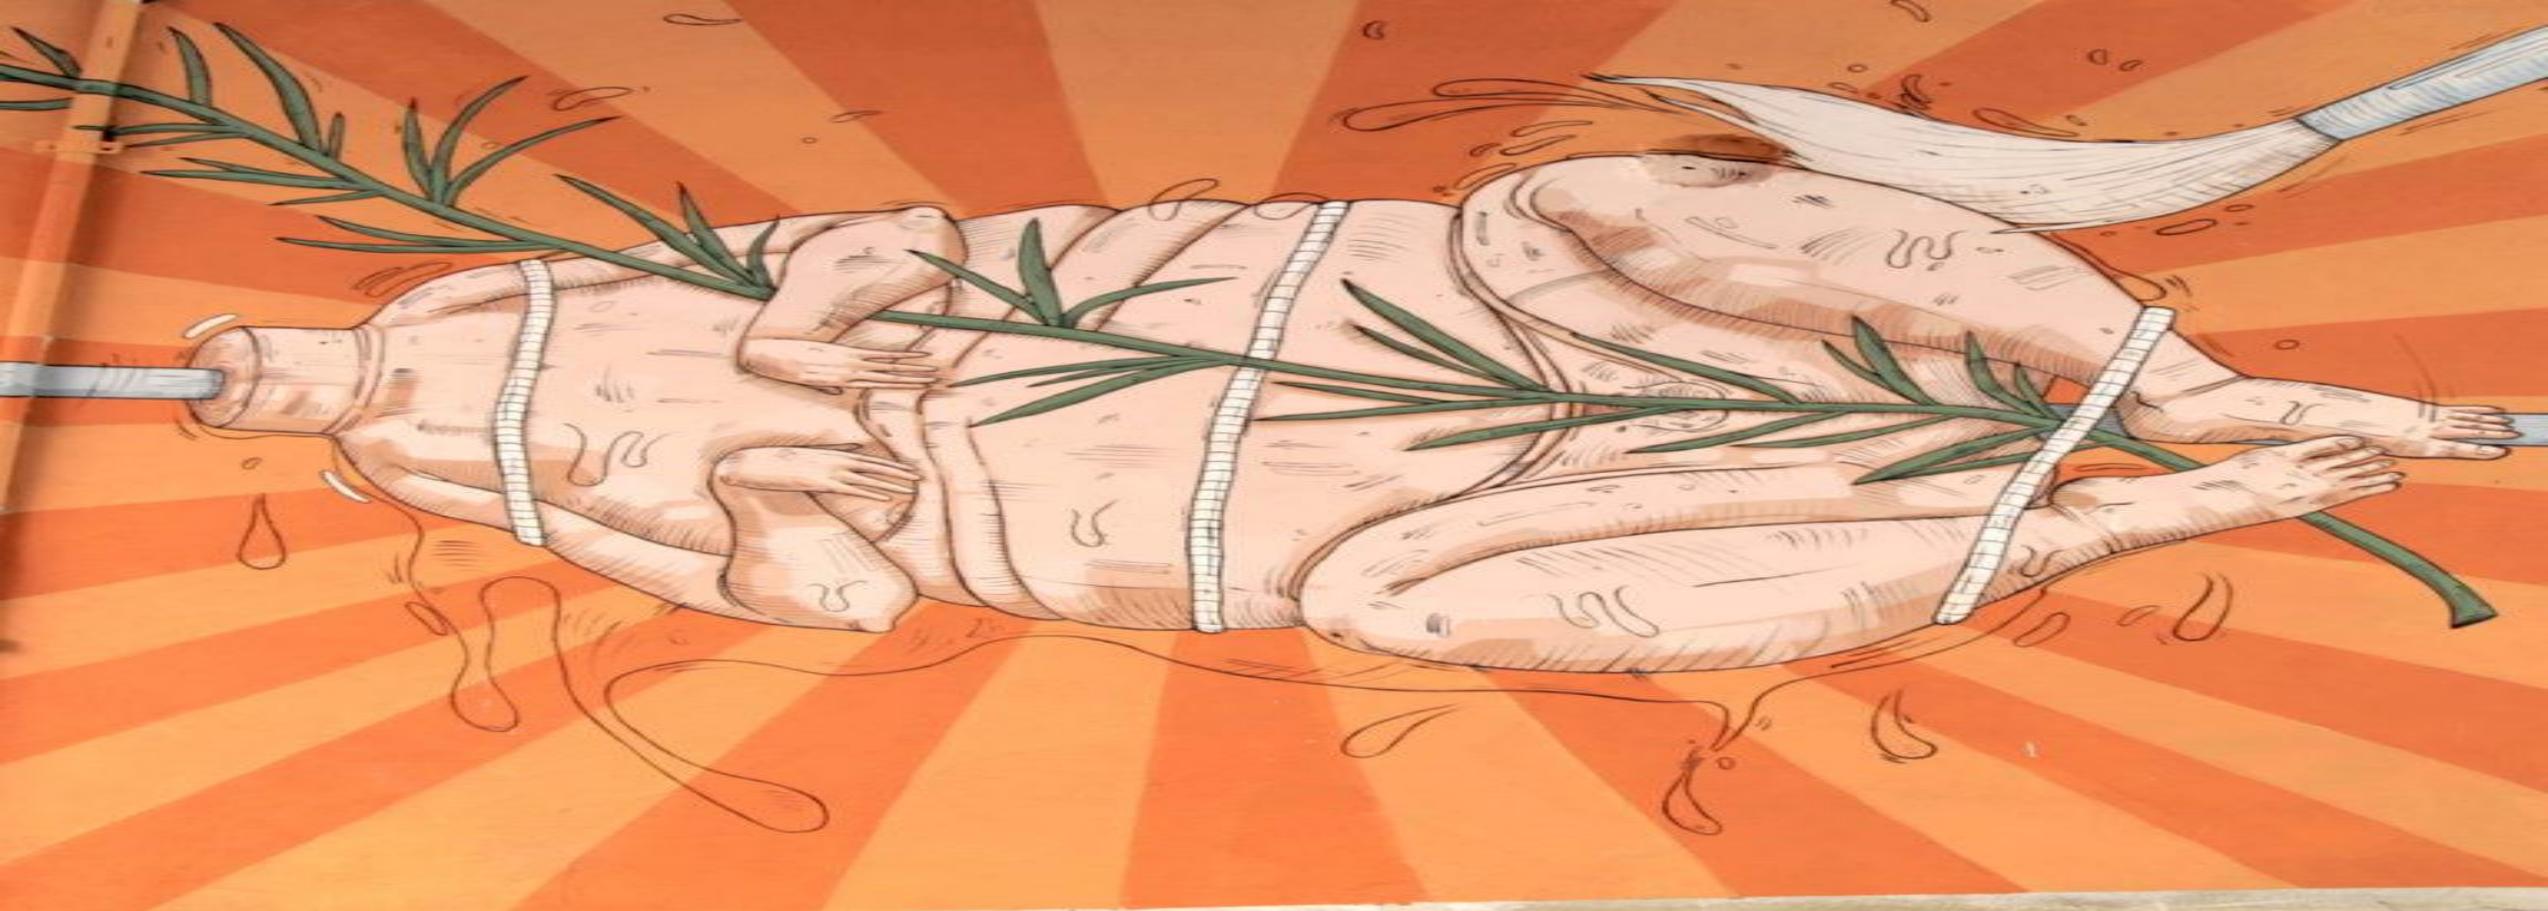

This wall has been painting by an Afghan artist that is known as Malina Suliman. This is not her real name, she changed it to safeguard her family living in Kandahar: she risked her life to protest against the violent system of Taliban. Her works are denunciations against the problems of identity of young generations, the inequality and oppression of women.

This wall is called Alvarez and has been painted by Diamond. It doesn't represent the main characteristics of the street art. The technics are unusual and strange. The themes are symbolic and gloomy.

DIAMOND - EMERGENCE FESTIVAL 2012

This wall has been painted by Luca Ledda. All his works have a particular graphic sign that gives personality to the subjects. The characters are ironic, surreal and provocateur.

This wall has been painted by Ericailcane. His interesting street art is sweet, surreal and dreamy. Often his subjects are animals.

The picture on this wall has been done by a colombian artist that paints in anonymous. The theme of her works is the society.

This wall has been painted by Blaqk team. Their works are characterised by graphic elements as geometric forms, geometric models and calligraphy-typography and are geometric and abstract.

This wall had been painted by Brock. Often the subjects of this artist are women with some decorations. Through his works he wants to make the viewer more sensitive.

JBROCK - EMERGENCE FESTIVAL 2012

The wall of this building has been painted by the Spanish artist Koctel. He wants to transport us to a tropical atmosphere where fruits acquire humanity and become the main characters. This refreshing universe is based in the idea of "Fruitlism" movement created by the author, where we found a permanent holiday state across the colorful joy, freshness and celebration presents in fruits.

This arcade has been painted by the peruvian Carlos Atoche who lives street art as a mission always on a journey / pilgrimage of wall in wall , the only medium he knows to tell his ideas to the world. The influences that we can find in his painting are many: from the unmistakable traits of classical civilizations, to the spatial conceptions of the great Italian masters, from the distinctive style of the ancient South American cultures to the more contemporaneous contemporary.

This building has been painted on this year by the Italian artist Riccardo Lanfranco, known as CORN79. He used acrylic and spray colors.

This wall has been painted in 2014 by the artist Rae Martini, one of the greatest exemplars of the European Graffiti writing movement and an Italian multi-style-lettering street celebrity.

The outdoor walls of our school have been painted for the first time in 2013 by the Italian artist Alice Pasquini, known as Alicè, one of the few woman in the world that practises Street Art. She has painted on the walls of a lot of countries and she usually depicts women and little girls.

On this year the Italian artist Salvo Ligama painted them with acrylic clors and the title of his work is 'Big Bang'.
