Preparatory activities:

Children learn about the Olympic games and link this topic to our Erasmus project.

For this activity, children will learn about the origins of Olympic games and the history of the modern games.

Activity:

1. Brainstorming.
2. Power point with information about the origins of the Olympic games and the history of the modern games.
3. Discussion about ideas with which they were founded but also about the problems that appeared because of political disagreements.

Subsequent activities:

Children will share with the classmates what they think about the problems and how they can be solved.

Results:

Children found this lesson very informative and they can now talk about the origins of the Olympic games and link it to our project topic.

Comments:

Teachers could plan this lesson to meet some objectives in the History curriculum as well as our project.
