

The image is a composite graphic. On the right side, there is a circular cross-section of a tree trunk with a weathered, cracked texture. A small, vibrant green plant with four leaves is growing from the center of the tree stump. On the left side, there is a silhouette of a person's head and shoulders, facing right. The background behind the silhouette is a warm, golden-yellow sunset or sunrise sky. The overall composition suggests themes of nature, growth, and human presence in the workplace.
