What is corporate environmental protection?

Corporate environmental protection includes all environmental impacts emanating from the company. Relevant regulations for company environmental protection require special company representatives to be appointed by the employer, provided that the company operates systems that fall under the respective law.

for example:

- 1.reduce waste
- 2.renewable energies

Sustainable leadership

- We involve our employees in the decision making process.
- We support our employees in balancing work and family.
- We offer further training and thus support our employees in developing their skills and long-term career prospects
