

My Erasmus in Italy

The week in Italy was challenging... Different culture, different traditions, different food, lots of new things, but the most important, nice people that welcomed us very warmly.

As time went by what was strange became familiar and everything ended up going very well and it was a week very well spent.

In the end we left Sicily with a different view, which is important, because knowing new places and new people is always good.

Rafaela Mendes