

I have chosen this photo for the Erasmus diary because I think that represents the values of the erasmus: friendship, happiness and learning a new language (Portuguese in my case) and new cultures. In the selfie, we can see Martí, Maria, Francisca, Sónia and me, Roc and it was taken in “Xauxa” during the farewell party. It is a special picture for me because it is one of the last memories with the girls from Portugal.

I had so much fun all the days and I made really good friends from all the countries. The Erasmus has been one of my best experiences and I hope to see all the people from the Eurostar project again.
