

Black and white painting „Zentangles“

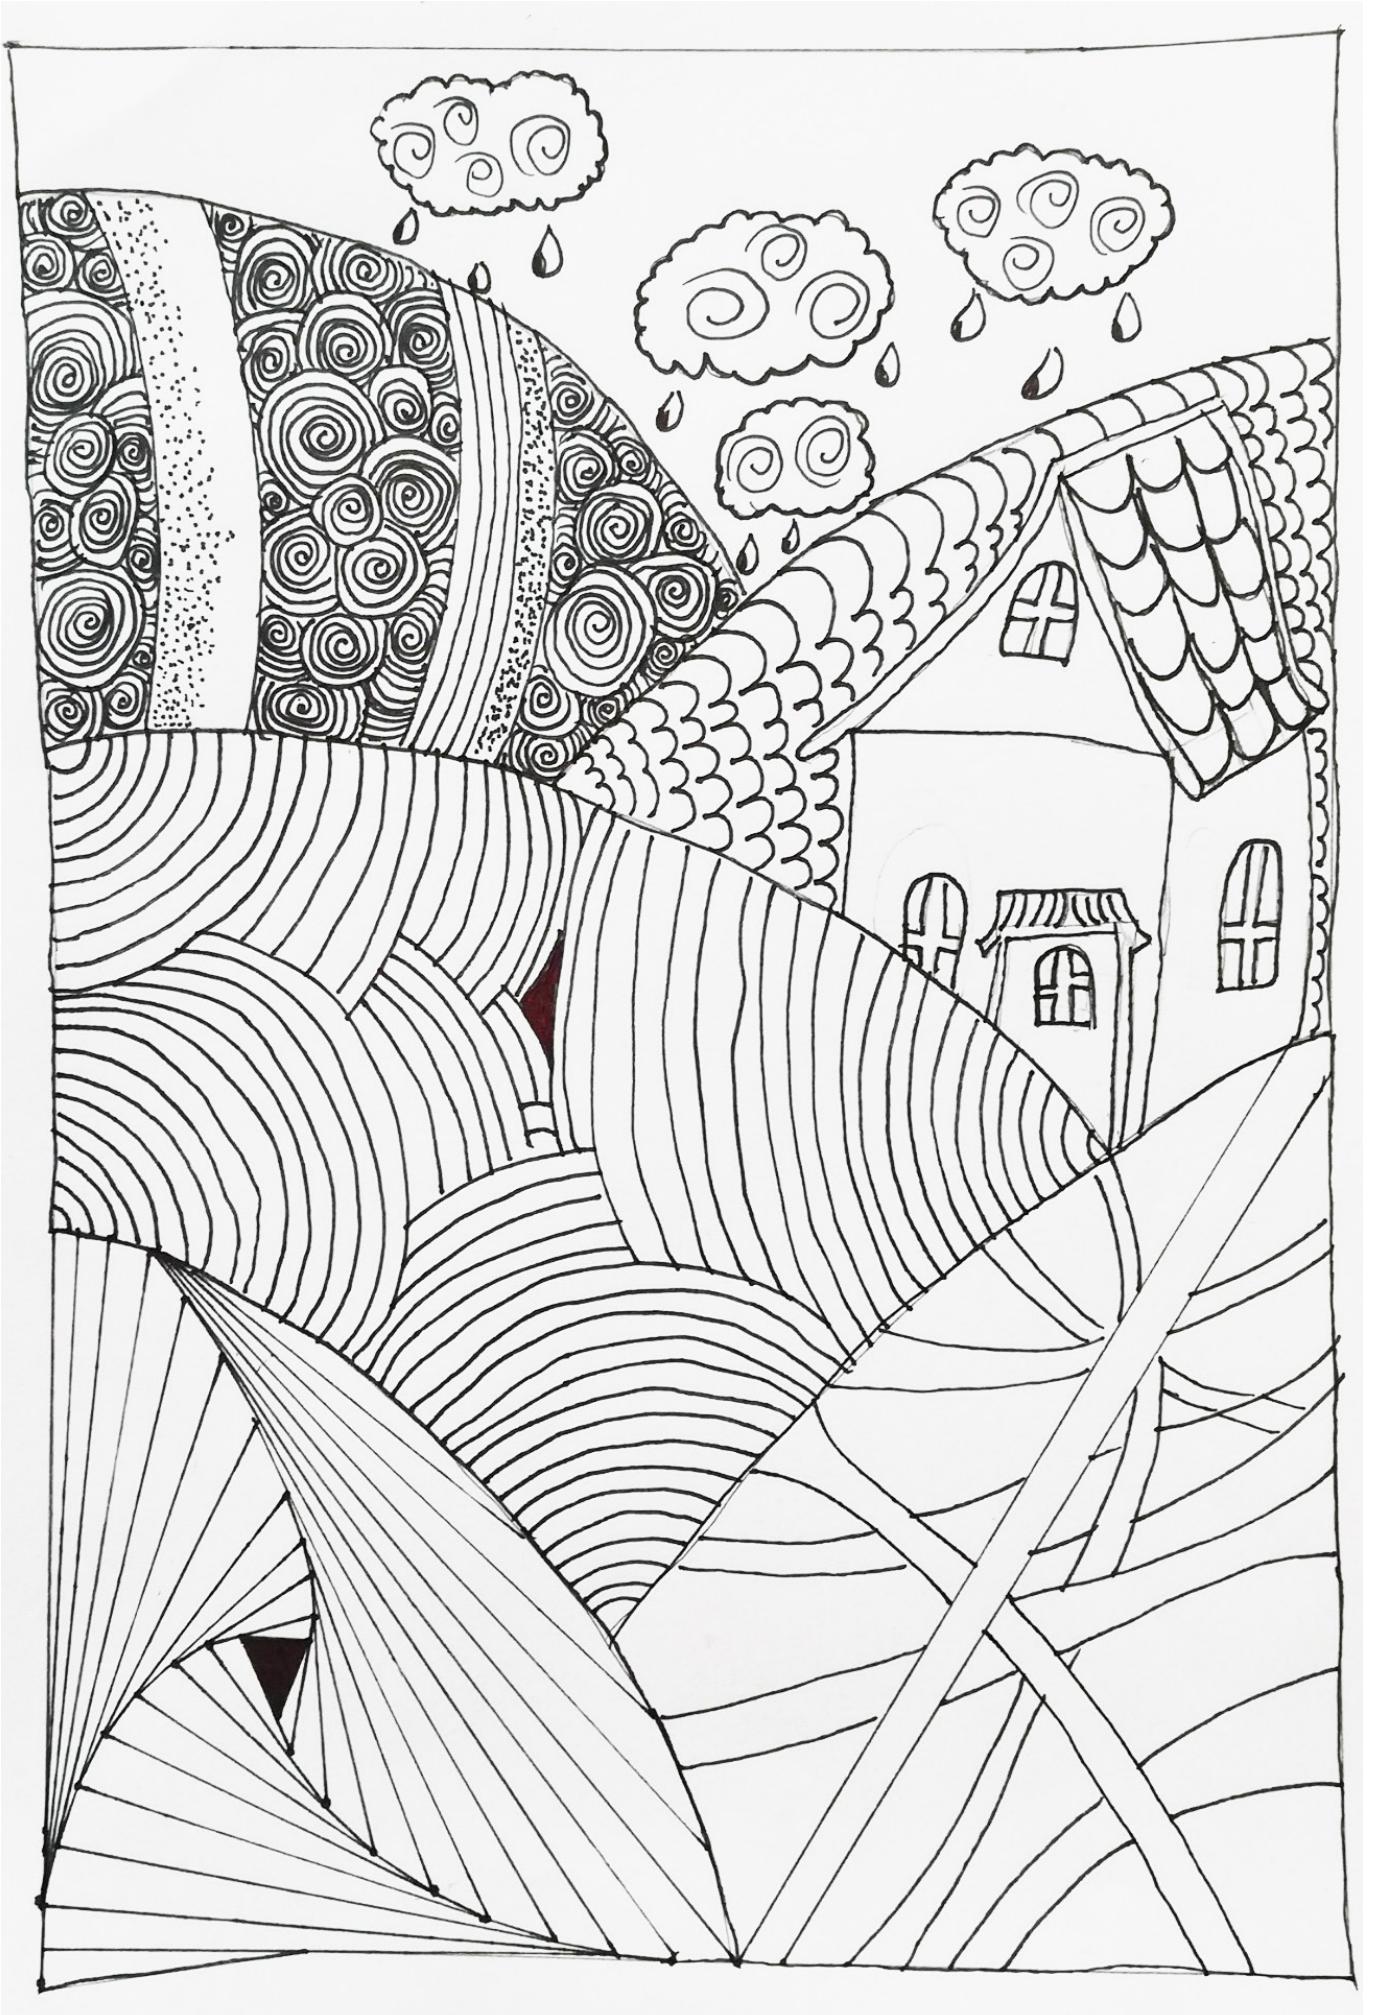

The whole idea of this art project is called „Zentangles“. Zentangles are repeating patterns like dots and lines, only using black fineliners. First the students got some impressions of different patterns that they tried to copy.

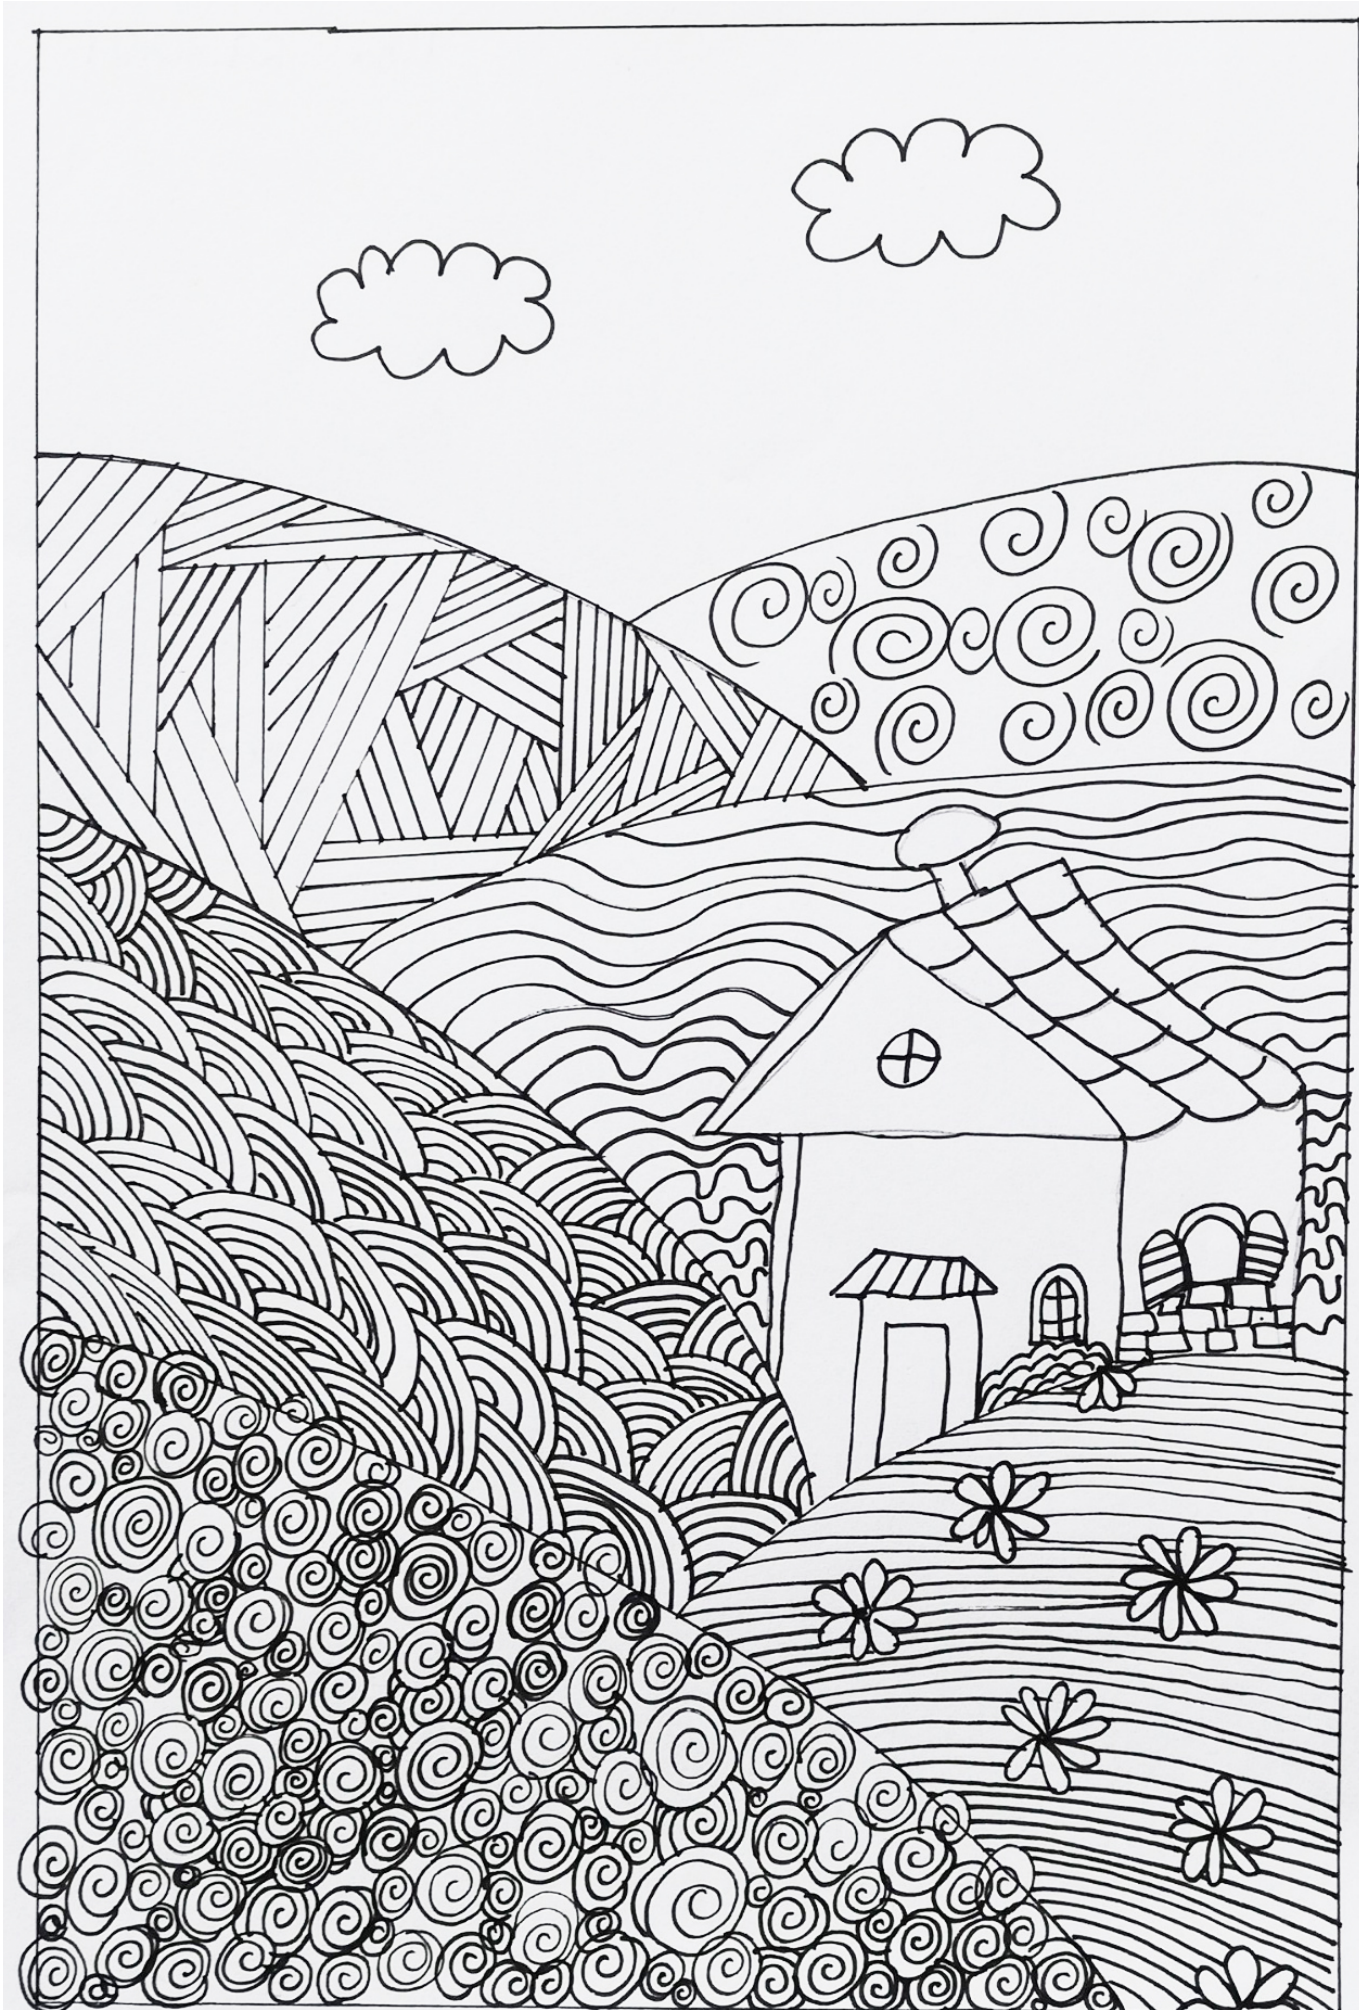

Afterwards they created their own patterns and combined them. The last step was, to use those patterns in a landscape or any other motive of their choice.

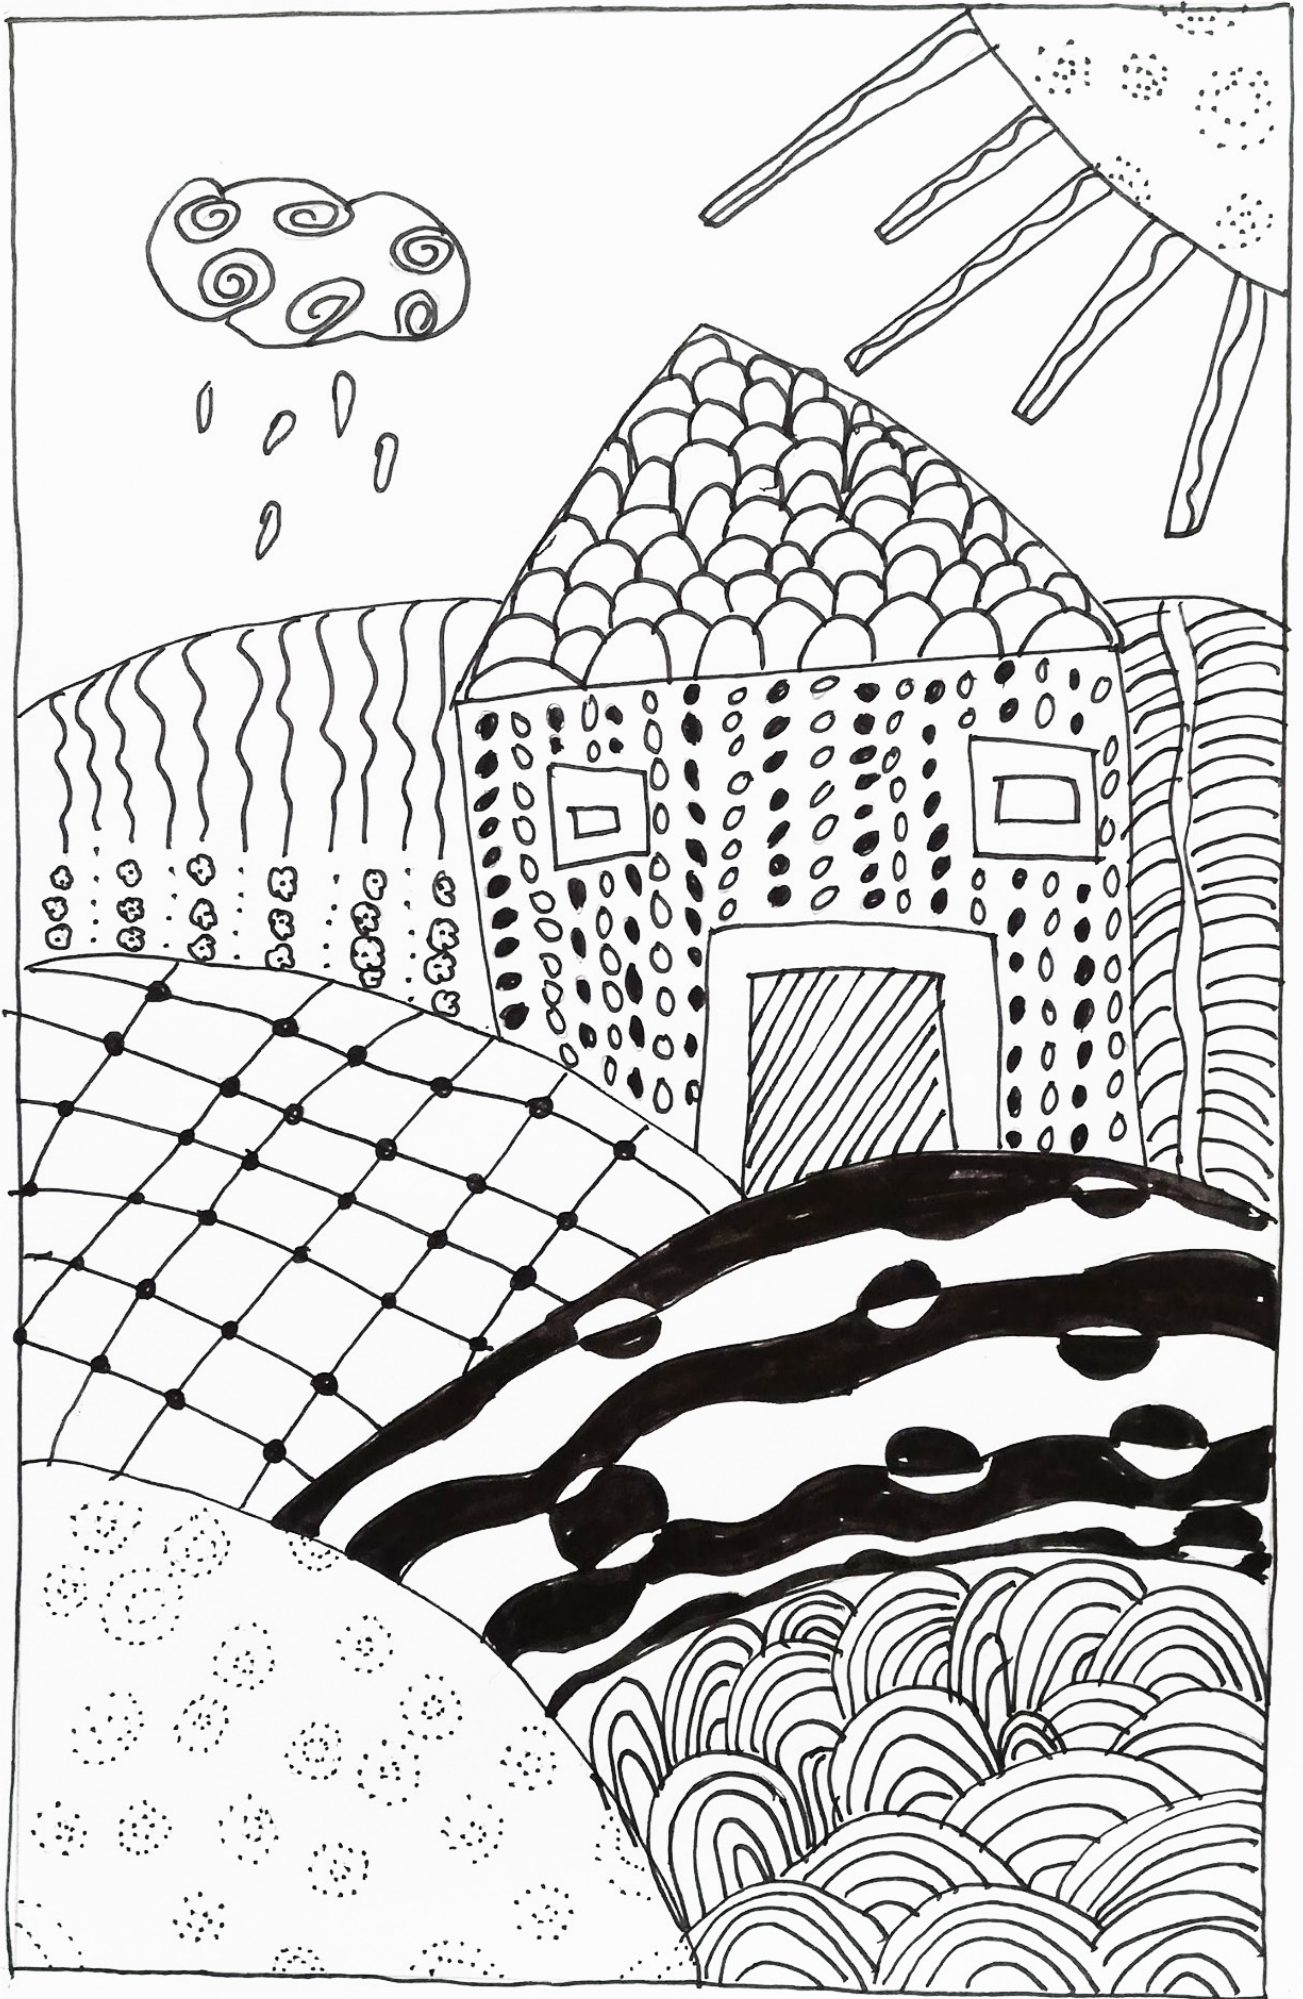

One work of art is remarkable in my opinion. Bastian, who can only see at a rate of 5 %, created a very unique view of his surrounding environment.
