Introduction example:

Hello!

A healthy environment inspires us to live in harmony with earth by having an awareness of how our behavior impacts our surroundings.

Today we are talking about different sources of energy that are in use and what the potential issue for each of them in the future is.

Welcome to the debate!

Today's guests are students from different countries, divided into two teams.

The team on your left is against using sustainable energy sources. The second team is pro using sustainable energy sources.
