

The night of San Juan

Claudia

What is this festivity?

It's the feast of the birth of Sant Joan, the Baptist on the part of Christianity on June 23th at twelve pm.

In European-Mediterranean countries the making of fire bonfires is usually a common element, and people jump over these. If you jump a bonfire without burning yourself, you guarantee luck throughout the year.

If you throw a braid made with flowers or colored ribbons to the beloved person and it is collected before it falls, there will be happiness between both and good fortune.

The jump of the waves

These jumps, are like the bonfires.

If you swim this night, you will have good health.

If you jump three consecutive waves in the sea, the wish you ask is fulfilled.

If you skip nine waves with your back to the sea, you also get the elimination of negative energies and increase female fertility.
