Wie junge Leute sich nach Gruppen anziehen

How young people dress in groups

“BETOS/BETAS”

✦

We see this type of dressing a lot in Portugal. This style is all about expensive brands. For the boys, we see them wearing expensive polo shirts, (example: Ralph Lauren) sweaters, beige pants and sneakers. For the girls, brands like “Bimba&Lola” and the use of animal patterns is very common. Long skirts, bell bottom pants, pearls, necklaces with their initials and shirts are also part of this style.

“CHUNGAS”

So for this style, people use frequently tracksuits, shoulder bags, fake brands' clothes , skinny jeans ...

“ALTERNOS/ALTERNAS/EMOS”

This type of dressing is more seen in the arts community and it's known for his darkness or his off-normal pieces of clothing. Lots of accessories are used, ripped clothes, “chockers”, black boots, ...

“HIPPIES”

The “Hippie” style in 2022 is a little bit different from what it was but it still has that calm and relax vibe to it. Some accessories, especially rings and necklaces, sunglasses, all-stars and colorful flower patterns are pieces of clothing that fit in this style.

“VINTAGE”

This is my favorite type of style. It's casual and fancy at the same time. Combines a lot of accessories and most of the clothes use for this style are second-hand, but more and more fast fashion stores are adapting themselves with products based on this style. It gives 90s vibes and it's what most people in Portugal, at the moment call it 'stylish'.
