ART AND SOUNDS
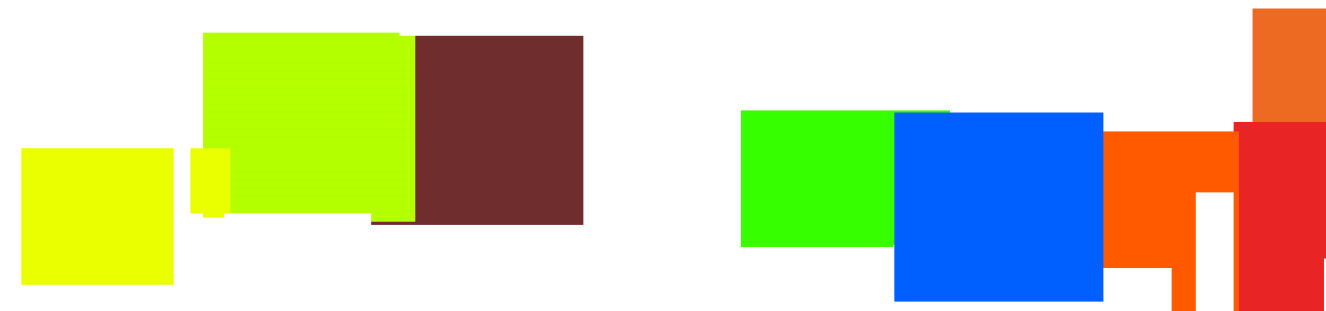

New Skills New Schools

The project is represented by a virtual piano that recreates the same sounds that a real piano makes.

The "art" part of it is depicted by the boxes of color that are created when pressing the notes.

Keyboard legend

The objective of the application is to combine music with visual arts, but also to include the potential of creating that computer science can offer.

The application is intended for educational purposes, but also for fun or recreational purposes.
