12. Was your country invaded in the past?

What do you know about invaders who invaded your country?

7 risposte

A lot, we learn about it at school- history lessons, from TV too. I'm thinking mostly about World War II.

I think, that is history and now we have to leave today. I know it was Russian, German, Vikings , Crusaders and they changed our history , mentality , borders.

I know these invaders, I know what remnants they left behind, what kind of destruction they made, what elements of the invaders culture we incorporated into our culture, how did this affect our history. I better know the art of Viking, I introduced my students to it

I know a lot about the history of our invaders as well as the invasions themselves.

I know a lot about our invaders.

They were Swedes and Germans

I know a lot about the invaders who did the partition in Poland. This invasion lasted for over one hundred years. I also know that especially in 17th century my country was at wars with the neighbours. That time Poland was invaded by the Swedish from the north and The Tatars from the south. Vikings came to our territories in the tenth and eleventh century.

13. Has your country invaded other countries in the past?

14. Do you know how invasion changed things in your country, for example, food, music, customs, language?

7 risposte

It has changed a lot of things, there 's a noticable influence in food, music, architecture, customs, language.

We have many words from Russian, German. We have monuments, many meals, elements of music.

Our knights also attacked other neighboring areas. This has affected our habits.

There are many after-effects and a lot of our heritage, like monuments, music, literature, customs etc. has been influenced by invasion to some degree. Psychologists and sociologists agree that even our national mentality and a lot of attitudes, such as towards the government, police and foreign policy, are a more or less direct result of the most recent periods of invasion and occupation of our country by the Germans and Russians - communism, the Second World War and the Partitions. It's clearly visible in our literature, music and other art forms.

Ivasion has had a great influence on our country, most notably stemming from the period of the partitions, when Poland ceased to exist and was under Russian, German and Austrian rule, as well as WWII.

Culture a little

The greatest influence had the period of partition. We can see it in language - a lot of borrowings from German language took place then. The Polish also started using German recipes for food. We still cook these dishes.

15. Do you know of anything that can still be seen or used in your country, which is the result of invasion, for example, buildings, monuments, roads, words, food etc?

7 risposte

Yes, I do. Everything above and customs, language.

Unfortunately I do not know everything

Yes, I know a lot

Auschwitz - a German concentration camp and many bunkers and other military outposts that have been converted into museums or are otherwise open to the public.

We make use of old German roads and buildings in some regions (those occupied by germany during WWII or the Partitions).
Palace of Culture and Science - a remnant and "gift" from the Soviet Union which is still functional and a symbol today.

Many monuments and buildings can still be seen, some have been converted into museums or other institutions make use of them.

Words

After the second world war Poland lasted under the Soviets occupation. They built a lot of monuments in memory of their victory. Poles hated these monuments and they overthrew the monuments after 1989. But there has been one artefact, which still exists - Palace of Culture and Science in Warsaw. It is liked even more now and very useful.
