My name is Sidonie Morvan, I am 16 years old. I have lived in Le Mans since I was born.

I am a student in the first year at Mongazon, a high school located in Angers. I did the specialities English Literature, History-Geography Geopolitics Political Science and SES.

During my first year of high school I applied and I was already lucky enough to be taken on the school's Erasmus project, which allowed me to build a project throughout the year on advertisements which then led to a week-long trip to Poland where we exchanged and shared our yearly projects with the other foreigners. This year the project is still going on and this time we are going to Germany, the meetings with our small group of fourteen participants take place on Monday evenings for one hour, during this hour we study different subjects in depth like for example advertising in the second year. This project made me realise that meeting foreigners brings a lot to the table, even if the Polish culture has something in common with the French, there are always things to discover and learn about each country. I also realised that I was able to build a project in the long term and in a different language from French (English) even if I had difficulties.

During my second year, the adaptation to the rhythm of the boarding school and to the changes allowed me to become autonomous and to have a better management of my work in time and quality.

I am applying for this permanent position as a manager because I want to supervise and help a team that needs me on a daily basis.

With all my respect,
Sidonie MORVAN
