

Travel Agent

Photo:

Required studies: There are no specific requirements to be a travel agent, but a bachelor's degree will open up more job opportunities, and certifications might make travel agents more marketable.

Working hours: A tour guide works 9 hours a day.

Skills for the job:

Travel agents need to sell their value to potential clients, then they need to be helpful and professional in meeting clients' needs in order build their client base.

Pros and Cons: You are able to travel like a millionaire. Also, you have the opportunity to be your own boss and work part-time. Moreover, this career can be stressful. As well, you are far from home most of the year.

Basic salary: A travel agent earns 2.910€/ per month.