

Erasmus †

It Manager

Photo:

Required Studies: In case you want to become an IT (Information Technology) Manager you need to have a bachelor's degree related to technical discipline such as computer science.

Working Hours: An IT Manager works more than 40 hours a week.

Skills for the job: You have to be able to solve technical problems fast and work well under pressure, you need to have attention in detail, teamworking and leadership skills as also management skills.

Pros and Cons: IT Management is a position of great responsibility and authority.

Although, it has great financial gains and you work many hours a week.

You have plenty of job opportunities because more and more businesses are looking out for IT Managers.

The IT Management job is the highest position in the technical field as a result you are valuable for the business.

This job contains a lot of stress because there is no room for mistakes.

You have to be able to know all new technology things coming out as a result, you have to change field constantly.

Basic Salary: An IT Manager earns from 2.000€ to 4.000€/per month.