I am e-Safe What About You?

2018/2019

In this story we will discuss security on the Internet and the release of photos on social networks.

Here we go, a girl named Ivana has published one photo.

But unfortunately she was cheating about it.
She thought it was all positive.

Someone took her picture and presented it as she did.

They painted her picture and published it on various social networks, but in a moody form. Everyone mocked.

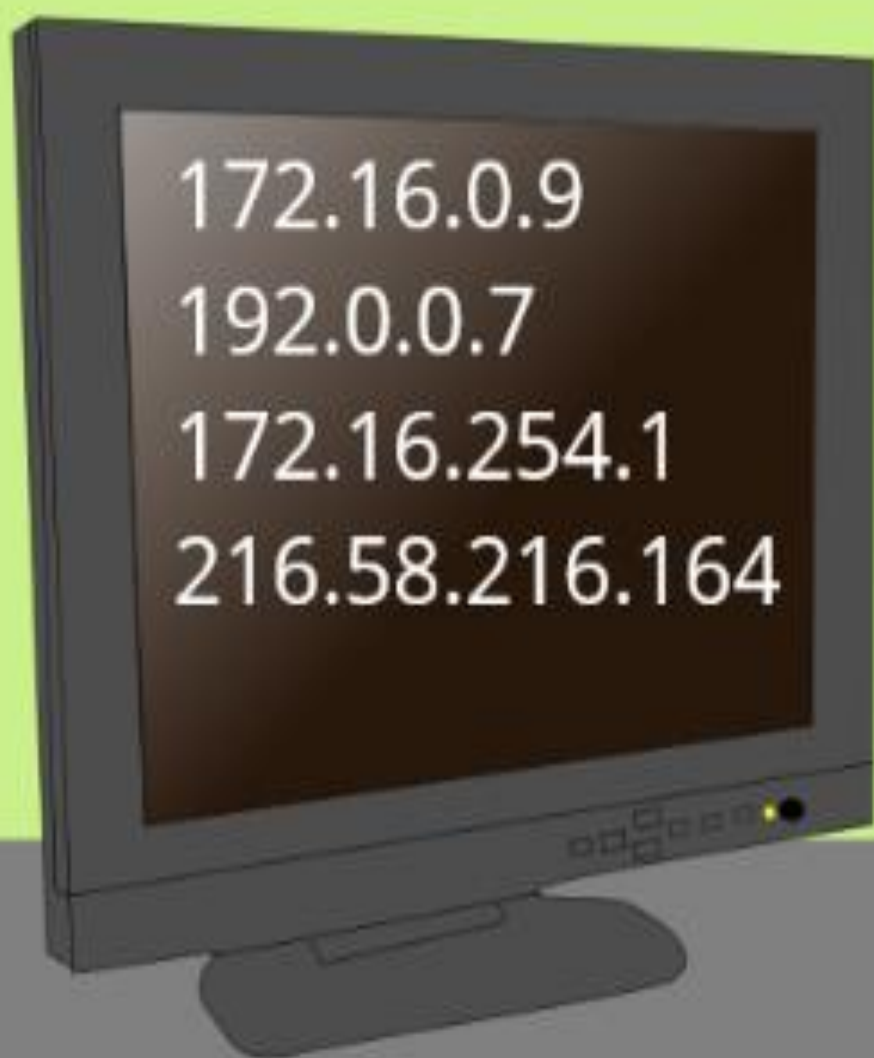

She was very sad about it, so her parents reported it to the police.

POLICE

Police examined the ip addresses that shared the photo.

Finally police found who changed and share her picture. Police took and questioned him.

I just wanted to have some fun.

James just said he wanted to have some fun and he didn't think the results would be like that.

I won't do again something like that. You can be sure.

James wiped Ivana's photo. He contacted and asked the people who shared the photo to delete the photo.

Ivana hope everyone has deleted that picture.

Conclusion:

Be careful what you publish!

You do not know what can be next!

Once posted on the Internet - can stay forever!
