

HIRO - SOPRANO

I would have liked to travel through time
I would have liked to travel through time
If I had had the power of Hiro Nakamura
I would have been to live again the birth of Lenny and Inaya
I would have been to Sanaa to boycott the taking off of the A310 of Yemenia
I would have visited my grandfather one last time
Told him that I would take care of his daughter, that he shouldn't worry
I would have been to see Martin Luther King
After his speech, to show him the picture of Barack Obama
I would have been to the temple of Harlem
To push Malcolm out of the scene before the bullet hits him
I would have been in Mandela's cell
To say "hold out"
Your ideas will be president of South Africa.
In love with lady Diana,
I would have created a huge traffic jam under the bridge of Alma
I would have been to the Bahamas
Not for vacation but to empty the hold of Aaliyah's plane
I would have liked to travel through time
I would have liked to travel through time
I would have liked to travel through time
If I had had the power of Hiro Nakamura
I would have been to see the fight of Mohamed Ali in Kinshasa
Then I would have celebrated the independence of my Commores in my grandfather's arms before his death
Then, a short tour of the Paris-Dakar in the
To boycott Daniel Balavoine's helicopter
As I like the truths of those who have a red nose
I would have punctured the tires of Coluche's motocross
I would have welcomed Mahomet to Medina
Then go to the Red Sea, let Moses pass
I would have been to the birth of Marie's son
Two hours later, do the salt march with Gandhi
I would have sat down next to Rosa Parks then go to Woodstock to live a live concert of Jimi Hendrix
I would have been to the birth of the Motown and see Michael doing the moonwalk
I would have been to New York City

To set off a bomb threat at 7:00 in both towers
I would have been to Iraq
To teach journalists to aim better with their shoes
I would have been to Afghanistan to throw away the cameras of the last interview of commander Massoud
I would have been to Angola
To tell Adebayor's team not to take the road
I would have been to Clichy-sous-bois
To unplug EDF's transformer before Zyed and Bouna came
I would have been to Kunta Kinte's house or to Gorée
To give them guns before the settlers come
I would have seen the African infantryman
To tell them we're treating their kids like dirty immigrants
I would have been to Austria
I would have done everything to prevent Adolf Hitler's parents from meeting each other
But even if I had Nakamura's power
What could I have done for Haïti, the tsunami or Katrina?
What could I have done for Alaska?
Everything that the nature gave us
The nature will take it back
So many things I wanted to change or live
So many things I wanted to erase or revive
But, all of that is impossible, my friend so I take a deep breath and blow the candles of my thirtieth birthday out
I would have liked to travel through the time
But we can live only in the present
We can live only in the present
