In the beginning .....

There was nothing. Darkness.

It was empty. It was mysterious.

But it was boring too.

nothing...

A river came down from the sky.

It was red and blue and fast.

It brought gold.

In the river were gold starfish.

The river brought everything to life -

Moon and stars, the sun,

trees, animals...and witches!

But it also brought love.

THE MOON AND STARS

The moon and stars came down with the river.

They were bright.

They liked Bristol but they went back to the sky to dry off.

They stayed in the sky to get rid of the blank spaces.

They were living in peace.

But a meteorite tried to attack them.

They circled around it.

They destroyed it with a magic spell.

The magic spell was finito!

The meteorite broke into pieces.

They make the sky brighter over Bristol.

The sun

The sun was red and shiny and big.
It was swimming in the river. It liked the world. It was singing. It saw a rainbow. It jumped into the sky. It was smiling.

Love

Love came out of the stars into the sky and everywhere. It was wonderful. People could see it. They felt happy 😊 when it saw the world. It felt good. It was nice. It was enormous.

The Rabbit

His name is fluffy. He is tiny and grey, a rabbit that burst in to life out of a bubble from the river in the new Bristol. It did not like what it saw so he hid away in the river and Jade picked him up and comforted him. This made him feel relaxed he now wanted to explore the new Bristol.

The ominousaurus

The ominousaurus is part spinosaurus. He is grey. He makes a loud noise. He decided to come out of the river. The dinosaur didn't know what to think. He was very dangerous he communicated with the dogs he said "eat the humans. Go on do it." He was an evil dinosaur and a murdering psychopath just like the indominus rex but luck was in sight the spinosaurus from the 3rd Jurassic park film came and fought the ominousaurus and the dogs joined in a crocodile named Boris jumped out of the water and dragged the squealing ominousaurus into the water with him killing the dinosaur then dog and spino acknowledged each other.

The witches of Bristol

The three witches of Bristol are taller than most people. They wear red, green and yellow dresses. The sisters live all together in a big house. The witches made a spell to turn people into animals. They are bad witches. They are flying witches. They want to change Bristol - no houses, no trees and no river. They should disappear because they are bad witches.

The Story of Jewel and Buck

The people were small, not like imps. Like elves. They were hiding in a cave in the river. They came out for food. They didn't have pointy ears but some of them were grouchy. One of them was younger than the rest. His name was Buck.

The witches didn't like it so by the creed of the people and the witches, they made a law. No human or witch should ever, ever meet each other. It was the human creed.

The humans wanted more food and there was more food on the witches' side. There was a witch called Jewel. They started fighting. But afterwards they fell in love. Jewel said we can't be together because of the law!!

It got worse the witches saw her with a human. And then the witches attacked Buck. Another human came out and he was turned into an animal. All the humans and witches came out. "They're on our land!" They agreed. They took Buck back to their side. He fell in a deep, deep depression because he lost Jewel. The witches and humans had an idea. They would lift the law if a human married a witch.

Buck and Jewel got married. The wedding was where Cabot circus is today. You can smell the wedding candles today. You can hear the voices of laughter and happiness from that lovely -day.
