

My First Mobility in Cyprus

The trip to Paphos was an unforgettable experience. I learned about the people of Paphos that some may find out who the tourist is by their clothes or that there is a restaurant called “The Pelican” where a pelican actually lives.

I liked the architecture because I use stone material, often hand-cut, and mosaic ornaments. I also liked the sense of beauty and art of the people there.

Although we caught some windy and dusty weather, the days were beautiful and warm, and the sea and beaches were pleasant.

I would have stayed another week!
