

My project: Inclusion in our daily life

1. Short description of project (What? Where and when? Why? Who? ...)

The project took place last year in our school. It was managed by the 'SMV', it's an association. Everyone who was interested in that theme could apply. We learned how to interact with handicapped people and how we could help them, if an emergency would happen on the street. It's important to handle this type of a difficult situation rightfully. Moreover, it's also important to teach students the correct way of helping handicapped people. Because many adults even don't know how to help, if it gets critical.

2. Main goal(s) and objectives (What do you want to achieve?)

It would be a great step, if we could motivate more young people to get in touch with the theme 'handicapped people'.

3. Project team (Who is part of the team?)

We were a big group of people from different classes. The most of the time, I organised things with my class mates.

4. Project plan (Who does what and when?)

See project plan worksheet

Because it was a project during only one day we couldn't do a lot of steps. But I think we did a great job in the short time we had.

5. Resources (What do you need?)

We will need flyers, to get it near to the students. Different types of advertisements would be nice, so we could reach everyone.

6. Constraints (Which obstacles might get in your way?)

Only if everybody works together we can achieve a better world, with tolerance and the new meaning of an equal world, where everyone no matter, if he's in a wheelchair or not can do the same work as a 'normal' human. In the end we're all just human beings.

7. Evaluation (Did you achieve your main goal? What went well? What went wrong? Which difficulties did you encounter? How did you solve them? ...)

It was good that the students could get used to the feeling being kind of in a different situation as usually. I think we reached our main goal, by showing many students in different ages how to help people in an emergency. At the beginning it was clear, that not everyone would handle an emergency rightfully but in the end I can say, we all did a great job.
