

Erasmus+ “Work in progress – My logbook“      Max Bernhardt

Dear student,

in order to keep track of your project work you should keep a logbook. For each day, please

1. describe what you did on that day (activities, workshops, excursions...).
2. sum up what you have learnt about the topic “immigration”.
3. describe and evaluate your project work, i.e.
  - a) which steps you have already taken, and which steps you still have to take (see project plan) and whether your project work is going according to your set project plan.
If not, what could you do to solve the problem(s)?
  - b) your team work, e.g. your cooperation, your communication.
In what way is it going well? What could be improved?
  - c) what you have learnt in terms of project work.

Illustrate your logbook entries by adding e.g. pictures, photos, extracts from brochures, used tickets.

Of course, you can keep an online logbook.

On the first day we arrived at the school at 8am. First we got a guided tour through the school building from the Italian students. I was amazed that some students learn to work in gastronomy. Before lunch we listened to the finished podcasts of each country and sang karaoke. After lunch we visited a museum in Castelfiorentino and walked up a hill to admire the view of the city. In our private time we went to a little funpark in the city of Castelfiorentino.

Saturday, 9th February 2019

On the second day we took the train to Florence and got a city tour. Florence has a lot of old buildings and churches and I think the city is beautiful. For lunch we had a typical Italian sandwich with ham and truffles. After lunch we had free time and so we explored the city on our own. In the evening my host organized a soccer game with friends, in which also Max Schmidtmeister took part. From 11pm to 2am we were in the disco with the students from Scotland and Italy.

On Sunday we had a day off. We went as a group to Siena in the afternoon because we were very tired. In Siena we looked at the Piazza del Campo and walked through the city centre.

Monday, 11th February 2019

On Monday morning we listened to an interesting speech given by employees of the organization OXFAM. During the speech I learned a lot about the topic "Immigration", because the employees of the organization experience the topic very closely every day.

Then we took the bus to a small town called San Gimignano. The town is located on a small hill in the middle of Tuscany. After we got a guided tour from our teachers, we tried the ice cream that won the world championship.

On the last day we continued working in mixed groups to finish our task to record a podcast on how Immigration will change in the next 20 years. For lunch the students, who learn to work in the gastronomy, cooked and served us a four course menu. At the end we saw a show performed by students of the school.

Conclusion: Immigration is an important issue, which will influence not only my future, but the future of all. Therefore, I am very happy to had the opportunity to be part of the Erasmus project. During the week I learned a lot about the different cultures, countries and their views on immigration.

Erasmus is a wonderful project from which I will take many things for my future and I hope that in the future even more students will get the chance to be part of it. With more and more wars in the world, people will continue to escape from their countries in search of a better life. Our mission is to protect and integrate these people.

It is important to see Europe as a unit, to work together and to find a solution together. Only then we can speak of a strong Europe in the future.
