

MONDAY

Morning

On Monday we all met at the assembly hall of the high school at 8.15. The principal of the school, Franziska Schärer explained how the school worked and how the courses are organized. After that, the music teacher and a student sang a beautiful song which is typical from Switzerland, and finally we all sang together with her.

Then, we formed different groups with people from all the countries and we had a discussion. Every country had some images and sentences which they explained to the rest and we gave our opinions.

When we finished we had a short break, we ate something and then the Swiss students prepared a tour around the school. It was really surprising how big it is compared to our schools. The facilities are amazing.

There are a lot of different rooms and the assembly and the sports hall are really big. There is a library , a canteen and a students room where you can have a rest.

Afternoon

After lunch, at 13:30, we all divided into 2 groups and per group we had to divide into 5 more groups so we had to write a blog entry about different themes for each group. There were 12 themes: "State Elections in Thuringen", "A Swiss girl in the heart of Brexit", "Croatia in Schengen - Yes or no?", "Interview with the Swiss inhabitants", "EU elections in our school", "18 months, 3 elections?", "Voice of the youth", "Spiegel online - reporting on Brexit", "Participation increases in EU elections", "Boris Johnson's way to Brexit", "Neues Deutschland - reporting on the Brexit" and "Tagesschau - Brexit on the reports". After finishing our blog, we had to translate it into our official language, for example, we had to translate it to Spanish. So after we finished the translation, the teachers gave us another text for each person so we also had to translate it into the different languages.
