

Battles of WWI where Greek army was involved

Battle of Dobro Pole

The Battle of Dobro Pole also known as the Breakthrough at Dobro Pole, was a WWI battle fought between 15 and 18 September 1918. The battle was fought in the initial stage of the Vardar Offensive, in the Balkans battlefield in today's Greek borders with North Macedonia. On 15 September, a combined force of Serbian, French and Greek troops attacked the Bulgarian-held trenches in Dobro Pole ("Good Field"), at the time part of the Kingdom of Serbia (present day North Macedonia). The offensive and the preceding artillery preparation had devastating effects on Bulgarian morale, eventually leading to mass desertions.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Battle_of_Dobro_Pole

Battle of Doiran

The Third Battle of Doiran was fought from 18–19 September 1918, with the Greeks and the British assaulting the positions of the Bulgarian Army near Doiran Lake. The battle ended with the Bulgarians repulsing all attacks.

Karasouli Polykastro British Military Cemetery

Battle of Skra

The Battle of Skra di Legen was a two-day battle which took place at the Skra fortified position, located northeast of Mount Paiko, which is north-west of Thessaloniki, on May 29–30, 1918, on the Macedonian front. The battle was the first large-scale employment of Greek troops of the Army of United Defence and resulted in the capture of the heavily fortified Bulgarian positions.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Category:Battles_of_World_War_I_involving_Greece

Thanks for watching!

