PINSAPO

The Pinsapo is a species of spruce characteristic of Mediterranean climates with high rainfall. They are located in the south of the Iberian Peninsula and in the north of Morocco. All masses of pinsapos are in protected natural areas: especially in Sierra de las Nieves.

Wildlife Refuge

The wildlife refuge is an area designated for the protection of wild animals, where hunting and fishing are prohibited or strictly controlled. In Spain there is an important refuge called FAPAS. They protect wild animals such as wolves and bears. They have started many projects for them.
